Marine pilots blast way thru, beyond Seoul

by MATT PORTZ

(Aboard a U. S. Navy "Jeep" Carrier in the Yellow Sea)—Marine carrier based fighter-bomber squadrons have been hammering the North Korean Communist invaders of the Republic of Korea since the 4th of August. The leatherneck airmen have been making dawn to dark shuttles from their Navy carrier bases in the East China or Yellow Seas, lugging tons of deadly napalm fire bombs, 500 or 1000 pound fragmentation bombs, five inch rockets and 20 mm. machine gun slugs over Communist positions for delivery to the intruders with the compliments of the United Nations. Targets of the flying Marines are the same as those of their earth bound buddies — enemy front line troops and equipment. In the Marine Corps they call this work "close air support".

THERE IS NO such thing as an "average Marine" pilot, but they do fall into a pattern, a pattern which casts U. S. Marines as the world's best fighting men. Democracies do not have their "elite corps," but in a sense that is exactly what Marines are—highly trained professional fighting men. Since there are no "average Marines," let's find one which may be called "typical of the breed." A typical one is Captain Charles A. House, USMC, of Burlington, Iowa.

ONE THING about Charlie that isn't typical is the fact that he's color blind. One doesn't find a color blind Marine aviator very often. To get into the Naval Aviation Cadets back in 1942 he memorized the color charts, and managed to get by his physical examination. Since then the charts have long been forgotten and he has an official waiver on his eyes.

It's a good thing that the Navy doctors were broadminded about this whole affair too, because Charlie's color blindness enables him to pick out well camouflaged targets that his unrestricted wingmen may overlook. The Communists in Korea are past masters of the art of concealment, but Charlie is a master of unconcealment. Shades of hundreds of dead Communists, burned out artillery pieces, tanks and trucks will attest to that.

WHAT KIND of a man is this Charlie House? Outwardly he looks just about like any other 28 year old American who was raised in the Middle West, attended a small denominational college and married "the" home town girl, but in action and in spirit he is first and last, a U. S. Marine.

Charlie started flying small planes back in Iowa at the age of 18 and built his first radio set at 13. His interests still run in these two channels, aviation and radio. When his flying duties permit, his amateur radio station W6FRU is on the air. He joined the Naval Aviation Cadets and came out of Pensacola in 1943 with shiney new gold Navy wings and second lieutenant's bars in the Marine Corps. Charlie didn't see any combat in World War II, but he did see plenty of hard days ferrying Marine planes all over the Pacific and he did assist in important experimental work in the field of radar search.

After Amphibious Warfare School came a tour of flight instructor duty, and then two years of field exercises at Camp Pendleton in California, and a mock invasion of Oahu in Hawaii. During this phase of his career, Charlie joined the famous "Death Rattlers" squadron and checked out on Navy aircraft carriers off the California coast. 1950 found him and the rest of the "Death Rattlers" aboard a Navy carrier off Korea.

For their first month in the combat zone the "Death Rattlers" hammered Communist troops and positions over the perimeter of the United Nations' beachhead around Pusan. After a brief refueling and rearming period at an advanced base, the leatherneck airmen and their Navy floating base moved into the Yellow Sea to soften up Red defenses in the Inchon-Seoul area prior to the landing assault by the First Marine Division. This job was so thorough that the landing forces moved ashore at dawn September 15, against negligible opposition to start their drive inland. Each day since D-day, Charlie and the "Death Rattlers" have been the spearhead of the advancing Marines.

To the average person this would be a daily diet too exciting and dangerous for comfortable piece of mind. To the Marine pilots it is dangerous alright, but not particularly exciting. It's another routine day's work, just like the Chicago officeworker who catches the 8:15 train to the office.

Petition asks investigation of Fire and Police commission

The council chambers in Arlington Heights were filled at Monday night's village board meeting. Part of the spectators were social studies students from the Arlington Public grade schools, who were present to learn how a village board meeting is conducted.

Others were present to hear the reading of a petition signed by over 300 residents requesting an investigation of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioner's activities.

THE BOARD decided to take the matter under advisement and will meet with the board of Fire and Police Commissions at a closed meeting Monday night to discuss the matter.

The board, through the recommendation of the village engineers accepted the bid of the Skokie Valley Asphalt Co. to pave Walnut ave., between Euclid and Hawthorne, subject to state approval. The Skokie company's bid amounted to $3,907.95, while the only other bid received, coming from Milburn Bros., Inc. of Mt. Prospect, amounted to $4,-354.25.

A representative of the Mobile Home appeared before the board seeking approval for the release of building and moving permits for seven homes they plan to bring into Arlington Heights. The building permits require approval of the Van Packard chimney and proposed locations of the homes.

The board gave their consent for three of the seven permits, 721 N. Fernandez, 207 N. Pine, and the southeast corner of Brown and Illinois in Arlington Park subdivision. The other permits will be held pending investigation of the proposed locations.

THREE LETTERS were read by the village clerk, all praising the efficiency of the Arlington Heights police department and Chief Carl H. Skoog. They were signed by Albert Newell, Victor Brown, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Nicholas Lattof's and Paul Taege's resignations from the zoning board were accepted. Lattof also resigned from the planning committee. Glen Benson was appointed by Mayor Albert W. Goedke to serve as chairman of the zoning board and Carl Teutsch was appointed to fill the Benson vacancy on the board. Elmer Crane was appointed to take Taege's place.

A Chicago company, which has proper equipment, was authorized to clean the sewer between Frederick and Hawthorne on N. Pine ave., and the sewer at Northwest hwy. and Dunton ave.

Village dads approved the payroll, which amounted to $10,-492.76, and the other reports from various village departments were accepted.

The meeting was adjourned until Friday night, when action will be taken on the passage of an ordinance calling a special election on the sewerage Revenue Bond issue.

Bazaar at St. John's church October 12

The annual bazaar sponsored by the Friendly Circle of the Women's Guild of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, Arlington Heights, will be held October 12 at the church starting at 2 p. m.

There will be booths of fancy work, dolls and doll clothes, aprons, bakery goods, surprise packages, white elephant and children's booth featuring a grab bag and many other surprises.

Coffee and homemade cake will be served during the afternoon. There will be a ham supper, served family style, from 5 to 7 p. m. Tickets for the supper are $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children under twelve. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Mrs. Bessie Linnenkohl is general chairman of the event, and Mrs. Dick Fredrichs and Mrs. Paul Hoffman are co-chairmen.

Cub Scout paper drive this Saturday

Arlington Heights Cub Scouts, with the assistance of their Den dads and all fathers who will help, are hopeful of a large tonnage of paper this Saturday morning.

Cooperation from all local residents is solicited. It is requested that all newspapers and magazines be tied in separate bundles and be placed on curbstones or near the street before 9 o'clock Saturday morning. The actual pickup will take place between 9 and 12 o'clock.

In case any residents are not able to carry out their own papers, Cub Scouts will be glad to go into the home and assist in bringing papers out. The accumulation point for the paper will be at the North and South grade schools.

Anyone willing to supply a truck for pickup purposes may do so by getting in touch with the chairman of the drive, R. G. White, phone Arlington Heights 3005.

Alvin Vogt killed in head-on collision near Bensenville

Alvin Vogt, 38, Wheeling rd., was instantly killed Wednesday at 11:45 when his auto and an empty gasoline truck belonging to a Janesville firm collided head-on two blocks north of Irving Park rd., on Route 83.

The driver of the oil transport truck is in Elmhurst hospital and the inquest was postponed until Sunday to give the injured man an opportunity to testify.

Mr. Vogt is survived by his wife, Clara, two sons, Alvin, Jr., and Donald, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Vogt, of Hinz road, two brothers, William and Arthur and a sister Mrs. Walter Bruhn.

Funeral services will be held at the Black chapel, Arlington Heights Sunday at 2:30 o'clock. Remains will lie in state commencing Friday evening.

Services will be conducted by Rev. L. V. Stephan with interment in Memory Gardens.

4 tennis courts ready for play at Arlington high

A long-felt need of Arlington Heights youth is being met with the completion of the new tennis courts on Ridge ave. across from the high school.

The boys' intramural tennis program will be in charge of Russel Attis, varsity tennis will be in charge of Roderick McLennon, and girls' intramural tennis will be in charge of Miss Patricia Schipper. All three tennis instructors are members of the teaching staff of the local high school.

The public is invited to use the courts all day Saturday, Sunday afternoons, and after school when in-school activities have not been scheduled.

Court rules

1. Anyone using these courts for any purpose must wear gymnasium shoes (rubber-soled street shoes not permitted).
2. Nets are not to be adjusted other than by coaches, directors, or custodians.
3. Players must not jump over or lean on nets or posts.
4. The use of profanity is strictly forbidden. Smoking is not permitted by students on school property at any time.
5. Intramural and inter-scholastic playing or practice will take precedence over free play.
6. On days of free play, the two south courts will be reserved for the girls and the two north courts for the boys. Mixed doubles may be substituted on any courts that have not been scheduled. The girls' courts may be used by the boys if they have not been scheduled and vice versa.
7. On days of free play, players will be limited to one-half hour play unless the court is not scheduled for the time following.
8. Courts will be unlocked at 7:30 a.m. and closed at dark.
9. Courts will be open to the public and students all day Saturday and Sunday afternoon.
10. The public is invited to use the courts on week days, provided they have not been scheduled for student usage.
11. Conduct on the courts should promote good sportsmanship and friendly relations.
12. Poor conduct, poor sportsmanship, abuse of facilities or damage to the court, nets, or fence should be reported to the director of athletics and physical education.

Last registration for November 7 election

The last chance for voters to register for the November 7 election will be next Tuesday when all polling places in Cook County will be open from 8:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.

There have been two changes made in the location of polling places in Wheeling township. Precinct 4, which was formerly at the corner of Campbell and Chestnut, will be at the home of Frank Schwolow, 12 South Mitchell.

The other change is at Prospect Heights, where the new fire station will be used.

The registrars will act in each precinct as a canvassing board, Oct. 11 and 12 to remove cards of persons known to be deceased or otherwise unqualified to vote in that particular precinct.

Boys confess robberies at school, factory

As this paper goes to press, Chief Skoog and Officer Johnson are securing signed confessions from two Arlington Heights boys to a robbery at the office of the high school October 20, 1949 and to thefts at the Hummel & Downing plant last February.

Both have been under suspicion of the two officers for some time. Direct evidence was difficult to obtain, but late Wednesday afternoon, the officers decided that available clues pointed to the boys sufficiently to make an arrest.

THE FIRST ONE, taken into custody, when threatened with a lie detector test, broke down and told everything about the high school case and later of the factory robbery.

The police had little difficulty in convincing their first prisoner that they also "had the goods" on his pal, and he readily admitted that they were correct in their assumption.

The high school robbery netted the boys $95 in cash, but damage to the vault and its door greatly exceeded that amount. The path followed by the boys from the shop where they first gained entrance, convinced the police that the work was done by persons familiar with the school.

THE BOYS ARE being questioned about other robberies as final forms are being locked for printing.

The officers are to be commended for their determination "to follow through." Johnson and his chief have made special studies of crime detection and attended police schools designed to train officers in that work.

Local National Guard unit to be instructed on atomic weapons

All members of the 228th Infantry Regiment, Illinois National Guard, are to receive an indoctrination course in the next 30 days. Regular Army personnel under the supervision of Lt. Col. Albert J. Hannon, assisted by National Guard officers of the 228th Infantry Regiment, will instruct in the capabilities and effects of atomic weapons, according to Col. Otto L. McBride, Commanding Officer, 228th Infantry Regiment, Illinois National Guard.

Purpose of this course is to acquaint all personnel of the suburban regiment with up to date information on the use of and protection from Atomic Weapons.

The third battalion of the 228th regiment comprises the headquarters company at Palatine, companies M at Arlington Heights, I at Des Plaines, K at Franklin Park, L at Melrose Park. There are two other batalions and a supply unit, completing the regiment.

Square dance to highlight Girl Scout Fall Festival this Sunday

An interesting program has been arranged for all those who attend the Girl Scout Fall Festival, which is to be held this Sunday, at Camp Pine, near Des Plaines.

This occasion is the second annual family get-together for the eight councils who have formed a committee to use Camp Pine as a Girl Scout Troop Camp for the Scouts in their suburbs. The eight villages who are represented on the Camp Pine Committee, Inc. are Western Springs, LaGrange, Mount Prospect ,Arlington Heights, Skokie, Glenview, Kenilworth and Park Ridge. This committee leased the former CCC camp site north of Des Plaines, and each council furnishes and maintains a cabin for the use of their own village Girl Scouts.

The program will begin at 2 p. m. All guests will be welcomed and aided in parking by the members of the LaGrange and Park Ridge councils. At 2:30 p. m., the flagraising ceree-

Wheeling Masons to celebrate 100th birthday

The one hundredth anniversary celebration of Vitruvius Lodge No. 31 A.F. and A.M. of Wheeling will be held October 7 at 8 p.m. at the Wheeling Public school.

The Lodge originated 100 years ago when, on October 4, 1849, W. C. Hobbs, then Grand Master of the State of Illinois, granted to brethren of Oriental and LaFayette Lodges a dispensation to form a lodge at Dutchman's Point by the name of Vitruvius Lodge.

The charter was granted October 10, 1850. Later an application was made for dispensation to move the Lodge from Dutchman's Point to Wheeling, which was granted and the Lodge was moved to Wheeling in 1851.

It is the second oldest Masonic lodges in the Chicago area. The lodge furniture in use today is supposedly the original as the records of the lodge do not show any other purchase.

VITRUVIOUS came into being before the establishment of local justice courts and the Master of the lodge was recognized as qualified to judge civil cases. In place of a police court docket, "court" actions and dispositions are recorded in the minutes of the order. The cases were largely boundary line disputes, etc., but some of the "trials" were of a more serious nature.

The Wheeling lodge held jurisdiction over a large area, throughout northeastern Illinois, including parts of Lake and Cook county.

With travel by horse and wagon or afoot, it became customary for lodge members from a distance to remain overnight. The lodge had hay and feed in an adjoining barn for that purpose.

IN ORDER THAT the members could find their way to the lodge hall, the regular meetings were originally scheduled to be held on the Saturday on or before the full moon. The 4th Saturday was later permanently adopted.

Vitruvius Lodge has had three meeting places in Wheeling, the present location having been used since 1877 when it was completely built for $600. The previous home of the lodge was the second floor of the Fassbender building, now occupied by Ray Lesch.

The records of the lodge are very complete. It has been served by 47 masters during the century. The earlier ones were Yankee pioneers. The ninth man to serve in that capacity, the late Jacob Hausam, who later moved to Arlington Heights, but whose family has kept in close touch with Vitruvius lodge down through the years.

Fire chief asks observance of Fire Prevention Week

In recognition of Fire Prevention Week, Elroy Winkelman, chief of Arlington Heights Fire Dept., is asking the cooperation of the general public.

"It is the duty of the firemen to extinguish fires," says Winkelman, and it is the duty of every one of us to prevent fires and here are a few suggestions as to ways that the average citizen can do just that:

Let there be no rubbish, old papers, broken furniture, junk, etc. stored in the attic, basement, garage or back yard;

See that ashes are kept in covered metal containers;

Keep matches in metal boxes and away from small children;

Kerosene or gasoline should never be used to start fires;

Do not use frayed electric cords in the house;

See that proper size fuses (15 amperes) are used in fuse boxes;

Keep chimneys in good repair by cleaning them once a year;"

"These are important items for each one of us to remember at all times," says the fire chief, "and there is no better time than Fire Prevention Week to check your home."

The local fire department has made arrangements with Arlington Theatre to run a Fire Prevention short during the week.

The various elementary schools will also be visited during the week.

Bond issue not necessary; find 5 acres southeast of Scarsdale

Petitions will be circulated soon to authorize the Board of Education of District No. 25 to hold a referendum on securing and establishing an additional school building site for the district. Such a site will be necessary in order for the district to be able to take care of the rapidly increasing enrollment in the lower grades on the south side.

The South school enrollment in the kindergarten and grades one through five, which are the years not included in the junior high school, has grown from 243 at the close of the 1947-48 school year to 412 at the beginning of the 1950-51 school year. Since the village records indicate that some 233 residence building permits on the south side, most of which are not yet occupied, have been issued since January 1, 1950, the board of education feels certain that they will be faced soon with the need for additional facilities for lower grade children there.

A YEAR'S STUDY of the problem and of the available sites has led the board to a decision to locate the new site in the southeast section of the village. The fact that 163 of the 233 permits referred to above are in the area south of the railroad and east of State rd. and that roughly one third of the present South school enrollment is in that area were important factors in this decision.

The board of education is particularly pleased that they have been able to find a well located site in the area where it is needed which can be secured at acreage prices, something which is usually difficult unless the site is secured long before the need for it is at all certain. The proposed site is a nicely lying, 5 acre tract located south of Rockwell ave. and east of Laurinwood, with Dryden ave. as its eastern boundary.

This site can be paid for out of current building fund balance, the board states, without the necessity of a bond issue or of increasing future building fund levies. It is pointed out that this will give the district, with the school site already available in the Arlington Ridge area, two sites for the future construction of small lower grade schools in areas where present child population and residence construction make them almost certain to be badly needed.

The fact that this site is badly needed, that the district can secure it at a reasonable price, and that it can be financed without additional bonds being issued, would seem to assure the community's approval of this project.

Lattof again leads OCD in Arlington Heights

With the appointment of Mr. Lattof as director of Civilian Defense, Arlington Heights is joining other major Cook County communities in recognizing the need for the rebirth of such an organization. "It is war insurance" said Mayor Goedke as he made the appointment.

Mayor Goedke has just announced the appointment of Nicholas M. Lattof as Director of Civilian Defense for Arlington Heights. Mr. Lattof served in the same capacity during the last war. His experience makes him a valuable man for this job.

Under Mr. Lattof's leadership, the OCD organization in Arlington Heights during the last war was one of the most outstanding in this area. While serving in that capacity, Mr. Lattof brought together the leaders of all civic organizations in Arlington Heights to assist with the work of the OCD. That resulted in the organization of the community council and Mr. Lattof served as its first president. As OCD coordinator, Mr. Lattof was primarily responsible for setting up the war memorial fund and resisted all efforts for using the fund on projects of a temporary nature. The $10,000 thus saved in the war memorial fund provided the money for the purchase of the site for the memorial library.

Mr. Lattof plans to give the office of civilian defense priority on his time. He has tendered his resignation as chairman of the zoning commission and as a member of the town planning commission.

With Mr. Lattof at the helm we are confident that Arlington Heights will again have a strong and efficient Civilian Defense organization.

Bensenville $298,000 Sewer bond issue wins over 3 to 1

A $298,000 bond issue for a communitywide sewer project carried in Bensenville last Saturday at a special election. The vote was 569 for and 172 against, or better than a 3 to 1 margin. A total of 746 citizens went to the polls to express their opinion on the proposition.

The four-way sewer project which will include a new lift station, a new treatment plant, larger mains to eliminate flooding and laterals for a new subdivision, received wide publicity in the local press.

THE MAYOR, Lowell Capoot, a World War II veteran, spearheaded the campaign in support of the project by speaking before every organized club and group in the community before the election. In addition public meetings were held every Wednesday night at the village hall four weeks before the special vote. The result was that every voter was given an opportunity to ask questions and have the entire project explained in detail.

The state sanitary water board and state department of public health had condemned the treatment plant and the lift staion as totally inadequate to handle the present needs of a population which had nearly tripled since they were established more than 25 years ago. In a special letter to the board, which was published in the local Paddock paper in that village, action was threatened unless remedial measures as outlined were followed.

It was considered to be the best informed electorate ever to go to the polls in a Bensenville election.

Arlington Heights will vote November 7 on a similar proposition.

Park board presents attendance figures of recreation program

Recreation Park was a beehive of activity during the summer months. According to Edward C. Wahl, president of Arlington Heights Park District, there was a record participation in all phases of the 1950 recreation program.

David Allen was in charge of the swimming classes and Supt. Albert Blume spent many hours beyond his normal working day in the administration and maintenance work. A high standard for sanitation and health is required by the board of commissioners for the protection of the community.

Some idea of the use of the swimming facilities can be found in the following attendance figures: daily average for 69 days, 451; total large pool, 31,102; total small pool, 4,341; swimming classes, 4,390; water ballet classes, 1,105.

RUSSELL ATTIS from the high school staff directed the activities on the ball diamond and tennis courts, with record registration for this phase of the summer program. There were free tennis lessons for 78 members in three age groups of the tennis club, conducted by Caroline Kraybill. One hundred twenty-four boys registered for the softball and baseball team consisting of three leagues. Two age groups in the handicraft club drew 33 children, making a total of 235 in these clubs.

Medals and ribbons were awarded to tennis players and for outstanding handicraft work. One reward for the ball players was a trip to Wrigley Field for a big league baseball game of the Chicago Cubs. The local teams were a part of Midwest Park League, in which Barrington, Palatine and Park Ridge also participated.

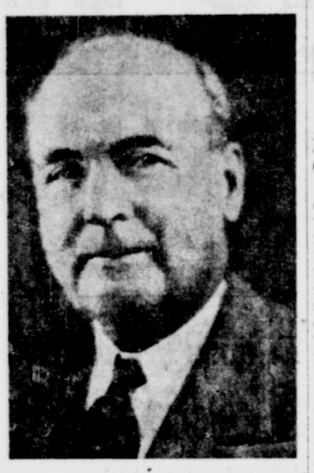
A summary of the number of participants in the general recreation program show that there were an average of 112 for the 56 days it was in operation. There were 4,042 boys and 2,240 girls who took part in the program outside of swimming.

Four trailer owners to appear in court

Owners of four of the five suburban trailer camps ordered to have all trailers off their property by last August 21 by a Superior court injunction will appear before Superior court Judge Peter H. Schwaba October 5 to explain why they should not be held in contempt of court.

They failed to produce proof Wednesday that they had complied with the court order when their attorneys appeared before Judge Schwaba. The injunction was issued last July by Judge Julius C. Hoffman at the request of the county health department. Officials of the department complained that unsanitary garbage disposal and drainage conditions existed in the camps.

New school official praises Wheeling and Northfield schools



Wm. G. Ludlow, recently appointed by Supt. Simon as his assistant in charge of division two, has completed a school tour in which he visited 35 school buildings.

He told a Herald reporter this week that he particularly enjoyed the school contacts he had found in Northfield and Wheeling townships. "The residents of these townships," said Ludlow, "are educational minded, are spending a lot of money for buildings, have elected capable school board members, and the proper education of the children of the two townships rests in the hands of capable teachers. I am certainly going to enjoy my work in division two."

Mr. Ludlow also said that after reading last week's Hersport page he had become so interested in Arlington football team that he will be rooting for Arlington at the Barrington game next Tuesday while his fellow assistant, Hagen, will be supporting Barrington.

Donald Linneman to attend FFA convention

Five outstanding Illinois youths in the Future Farmers of America organization will attend the National FFA convention in Kansas City October 9 through October 12 as winners of the Santa Fe Railway's educational awards, Fred G. Gurley, Santa Fe president announced

Winners of the Santa Fe educational awards based on outstanding achievements during the year are selected by the Illinois headquarters of the Future Farmers of America.

The five winners as announced by J. E. Hill, Assistant Director of the State of Illinois' Board for Vocational Education include Donald Linneman, Arlington Heights. Linneman is state vice president in charge of section six.

Certificates of Merit representing the Santa Fe award will be presented to the winners prior to their departure for the convention.

Arlington police to wage war on reckless drivers

Arlington Heights police have joined with other state and local officials in Illinois' 1950 Traffic Counter Attack.

"Motorists and pedestrians of our city are in greater danger today than ever before because irresponsible drivers are refusing to obey traffic laws," says the chief. "I have pledged my support to Governor Stevenson's state-wide attack on the careless driving responsible for the tragic toll of death, injury and property damage rolled up thus far in 1950."

Chief Skoog pointed out that most of the increase in fatalities and injuries is on rural highways near smaller cities such as ours. Records show that most of those killed or injured are residents of our smaller communities.

"This means," he said, "that our own people are involved in a large proportion of the traffic law violations which are responsible for these accidents. It is our plan to pull these dangerous drivers in, and through court and driver license restrictions, to keep them off the roads."

The State Police, in addition to stepping up its own traffic law enforcement, has promised the local police every possible assistance in curbing dangerous driving practices. A corps of officers, especially trained for the attack on accident causing violations, is being sent to cities needing assistance. In addition, traffic courts throughout the state have announced plans to levy stiffer fines for hazardous violations, such as speeding, wherever the evidence warrants. The driver licensing authorities are cooperating by revocation of licenses wherever this action is thought necessary.

"It is hoped," Chief Skoog said, "that residents of Arlington Heights will cooperate in every way possible. We must protect the lives of those who use our streets and highways. The record is its own proof of the imperative need for effective action now.

"Join the attack now by driving with greater care. Don't speed. Don't drink and drive. Make our streets and the highways near it safe for everyone."

England's Thames river is pronounced temz for the reason that prior to the 15th century, it was spelled Temze.

Navy stunt flyer to speak at Legion Saturday

Lt. Comdr. R. A. Schram, U.S.N.R. of Glenview, will speak in Arlington Heights Saturday evening at the installation of officers of Merle Guild Post No. 208, American Legion, at 8 p. m. in the Legion Home. All veterans and their families are invited Dancing and refreshments will follow this interesting talk to be given by this nationally known flier.

Lt. Comdr. Schram first gained nationwide renown in 1941 at the National Air Races in Cleveland, when he landed his plane on the "World's Smallest Aircraft Carrier," the 8x17 foot bed of a moving truck! He has performed this difficult stunt many times since, flying a Piper Cub. In recognition of the tremendous favorable publicity the Navy received, he was awarded "Honorary Designation No. 2" and given his Navy wings, although he had been a ground officer. This award has been given to only one other man—Honorary Designation No. 1 to the famous Frank Hawks.

Lt. Comdr. Schram started flying in 1933, and is an aeronautical engineer. He is Deputy Chief, Airman Branch, Civil Aeronautics Authority. He also has a radio show called "Flight Time" each Saturday at 10:30 a. m., station WNMP Evanston.

All friends of the Legion are invited to hear this interesting speaker and enjoy the dancing and refreshments afterward.

Stories of the life and adventures of homesteaders in various parts of our country have long been a popular type of fiction, and we now have two new ones following this theme.

"Little Britches" by Ralph Moody is a biographical account of making a bare ranch in Colorado into a home. "Father and I Were Ranchers" is the theme of the book and the father-son relationship is a charming one. The reminiscences cover school days, rodeos, tornadoes, a fight over the irrigation ditch, and the endless seasonal activities of life on a farm-ranch.

"The Edge of Time" by Loula Grace Erdman is the story of homesteaders who filed on a small section of land in the midst of endless miles of ranch country in Texas. She tells of the blizzards and droughts they endured of the ever-present dread of grass fire, of the burden of loneliness. We meet the distant neighbors, the itinerant preacher, the frontier doctor, and the two cowboys who stopped to deliver messages or a rare piece of mail. This book is primarily an account of the courage and fortitude of the women, who helped settle the Texas Panhandle.

Another interesting new book about Texas is "Ladder to the Sky" by Joyce T. Simpson. This is a biographical narrative of the author's father, who became one of the most successful independents in the oil industry. It is also the hilarious and entertaining picture of his family who lived the exciting oil game with him from his "roughneck" days right up the ladder to success.

Northbrook man collects $3,800 for dog bite on head of his son

Probate Judge William F. Waugh Wednesday approved a settlement of $3,800 in the dog bite damage suit brought by James Kearns, 37, public relations consultant, in behalf of his son, Walter, 7, of 2244 Crabtree lane, Northbrook.

The settlement is believed to be the largest ever made in a dog bite action in Cook county.

Kearns, former sports writer for the Chicago Daily News, had sued building contractor, Donald M. Ericson, of 1024 Briarwood lane, Northbrook. Trial was begun early this week before Superior Judge James J. McDermott.

The boy had been bitten on the head by Ericson's prize German shepherd, Captain Eric of Oldhave, on June 7, 1948.

Kearns had charged that the dog is "vicious" and should have been on a leash. The boy was playing in the street at the time of the dog's attack.

County board finds ballot printing costs have gone upward

In an emergency action, the County Board Tuesday awarded contracts to printers for official and specimen ballots for the November 7 election.

When Commissioner George Nixon observed that the printing costs had apparently risen considerably as reflected by bids received in comparison with printing costs for the primary election ballots, there was some controversy as to the advisability of going ahead with the contracts. Ordinarily, the bids would be referred to the Finance committee for investigation.

Finance committee chairman Dan Ryan replied that if the Board didn't act now, "there won't be any ballots for the election." Ryan went on to explain that there is just enough time to have the ballots printed for the election. He also noted that the Korean war had apparently caused a shortage of paper and so, a rise in printing costs.

Pick C. F. Mees as Cook county farm adviser

The Cook County Farm Bureau Board announces that C. F. Mees, for seven years Farm Adviser of Randolph County, Ill., has been employed to become Farm Adviser for Cook County beginning January 1, 1951.

Mr. Mees is 38 years old and has been Farm Adviser for seven years before which time he taught Vocational Agriculture in Waterloo, Ill. Incidentally, this is the county where Farm Adviser Hughes served twelve years before coming to Cook County.

Mr. Mees holds a Bachelor's and Master's degree in Agriculture from the University of Illinois. During his term as Farm Adviser in Randolph County, the membership of the county has had an outstanding growth and Mr. Mees has done some excellent work in promoting soil conservation programs and also in working with the dairymen of the county. He was born in Union County, Ill., and is not a stranger to vegetable farming which will stand him in good stead in working in Cook County.

'I BELIEVE that the Cook County Board has made a good selection in Mr. Mees," states Farm Adviser Hughes. "Mr. Mees is a man who expresses himself well and has done an outstanding piece of work in publicity and getting information out to farmers in his county. I request that he be given time to orient himself in Cook County and to understand the problems that we have in the county.

"The Farm Bureau and the Extension work which Mr. Mees will have directly in charge is in good shape and there is every reason in the world to believe that Cook County will continue in the foremost ranks of the counties in the state under Mr. Mees' diretcion." Mr. Mees has a family of two children and will move to Arlington Heights the last of the year.

Frances Ramer new second grade teacher

A new teacher, Mrs. Frances Ramer, has been employed to teach in one of the second grade rooms at the South Public school in Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Ramer, who lives in Park Ridge, began her duties Monday morning. She has previously taught in a kindergarten, fifth and sixth grades, and at Maine Township high school. Her husband is still a teacher at the latter.

Mrs. Ramer has a BS degree from the State Teachers college at Bridgewater, Mass. and a Master's degree from Northwestern university.

American Legion to install new officers Saturday night

Merle Guild Post No. 208, American Legion of Arlington Heights and its Auxiliary, will formally install new officers for 1950-51 Saturday evening at 8 p.m. in the Legion Home, Douglas and Miner sts.

Veterans and their families in the Arlington Heights area and friends of the Legion and auxiliary are invited to attend the ceremony and stay for the party following. There will be dancing and refreshments. An outstanding program has been arranged, which includes a talk by Lt. Comdr. R. A. Schram, USNR, who is a navy publicity stunt flier.

During the past two or three years, membership in Merle Guild Post 208 has been increased considerably by World War II veterans, not only because of the value of the Legion to all veterans, but also due to the growing activity in the local post. Proof that the Legion offers great interest to the young veterans of Arlington Heights is in the fact that nearly all the incoming officers are World War II veterans.

Incoming Commander Bob Bishop and outgoing Commander Ken Messenger, join in this message to all veterans of Arlington Heights:

"The Legion offers much to the veteran and his family. It is an organization devoted to public services in the community, state and nation. In these crucial times of 'little wars' and the threat of 'big war,' there is a definite need for veterans to band together more than ever before. You, and your families, are invited to attend our installation party Saturday night. Not only will you enjoy the fun, but you will also have a chance to see what the Legion means, and to meet your neighbors. It's a grand place to make new friends."

The new commander, Bob Bishop, is also president of the Arlington Heights Men's club, and vice president of the Bishop Publishing company in Chicago. The other officers to be installed are: Bob Bittner, senior vice-commander; Don Barker, junior vice-commander; Ed. O'Brien, adjutant; Bob Balfour, finance officer; Don Giese, chaplain; Joe Wisersky, historian, and Arnold Sider, sergeant-at-arms.

The incoming officers of the auxiliary for the 1950-51 year are: Mae Jorgensen, president; Carolyn Messenger, first vice-president; Marion Douglass, second vice-president; Laura McElhose, secretary; Dorothy Peterson, treasurer; Maude K. Parker, chaplain; Anita Balfour, historian, and Ann Sider, sergeant-at-arms.

Wives and relatives of veterans are invited to join the auxiliary.

Hallowe'en drawings to be more colorful; junior high students are artists

The Chamber of Commerce will again sponsor a Hallowe'en window decorating contest October 28. The contest will be open to all sixth, seventh, and eighth graders in the public and parochial schools, with a goodly number of prizes being awarded.

This year the contest will take on added color, for the drawings will be made up using a variety of colors, rather than just the white drawings of a year ago. The Chamber of Commerce will furnish paint and each contestant will have to furnish his own brushes, mixing pans, a small pan for water, rags, and some newspapers to spread underneath the window to catch the drippings.

The Chamber of Commerce will arrange with the various merchants in town for the windows that are to be decorated, and the paint will be distributed from the Junior high school art room Saturday morning, October 28. The window painting will be done that morning, with the judging and awarding of prizes to be done in the afternoon.

Further details regarding the contest will be distributed in the schools, as well as being announced in a following issue of the Herald.

7th District Women's clubs to hold golden jubilee celebration in Heights October 12

October 12, the Seventh District Illinois Federation of Women's clubs will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary by presenting a colorful pageant called "Golden Reveries," depicting some of the outstanding events in club history, as club women have worked and even fought for the position they now enjoy. Names of many of the pioneer club women of this section will appear—and the women themselves wherever this is possible.

This will be the regular fall meeting of the Seventh District clubs, to be held at the Faith Evangelical Lutheran church, 431 S. State rd., Arlington Heights. The meeting will be called to order at 9:45 a. m. promptly by Mrs. George F. Gschwindt, president of the district. Hostess clubs' presidents who will welcome the members and guests are, Mrs. Milton C. Haase, Arlington Heights; Mrs. A. F. Buchert, Lincoln Square; and Mrs. N. A. Buending, Woman's Club Chorus.

Rev. Edgar H. Behrens, pastor of Faith Church will read the invocation and women of the church will serve the luncheon. Mrs. Gschwindt will respond to the welcome and introduce the distinguished guests who are honoring Seventh District on this important occasion.

Mrs. A. R. Rohlfing, Illinois State president, will be guest of honor; Mrs. Alfred L. Jacobs, vice-president, Director of the Northern District, and Mrs. Lee Cannon, State Public Health and Welfare Chairmen, will also be guest speakers.

A solo, "The Rosary," will be sung by Mrs. George Tuttle of the Arlington Heights club, accompanied by Mrs. F. C. Schmoyer. Reports by Department Chairmen on plans for the work of each department for the club year just beginning will be followed by the announcement of Art and Literature Awards won by Seventh District Clubs at the State Convention. The Seventh District Club Chorus will sing old-fashioned songs as a prelude to the Pageant at the opening of the afternoon session, and Mrs. Rohlfing will address the assemblage on "What the Federation Does for Your Club."

The Pageant, written by Mrs. Charles R. Holton, a former president of the District and long prominent in club work, draws largely on the scrapbook compiled through the years by Mrs. Julia M. Baldwin, who played such an active role in the early years of club work. In fact the Prologue will present Mrs. Baldwin herself, in Tableau, sitting at her desk, thumbing through her scrapbook. The narrator, Mrs. Howard E. Hanson, reading the announcement of the Federation's Goodwill Day program for August 15, at the Chicago Fair, allows her thoughts to travel backward to that far-off day when "Two Bold Women;" Misses Phoebe and Alice Carey, asked for and were refused permission to attend a dinner in New York, honoring Charles Dickens, on the grounds that it "was unseemly for ladies to appear at such a function." This was the incident which prompted Jenny June Crowley to organize the first women's group, "for women only," in 1894.

The second scene will depict an early Seventh District meeting, held in Norwood Park in 1914, when the hardy souls who attended had to carry their own lunch and wade through the mud to get to their meeting place. A young reporter scheduled to address the group missed his train and after taking a street car as far as possible, had to plow five miles through the mud to reach the place.

A third tableau will show the IFWC Convention at Rockford, Ill., in 1915, when Katherine Padden Payne of the Seventh District presented a Resolution calling for the singing of the Star Spangled Banner — "the National Anthem" at each meeting. Lovers of "America" took violent issue and a battle royal ensued. The Resolution was not passed!

The fourth episode will show Seventh District women doing their bit in two World Wars, as Red Cross workers and U.S.O. Hostesses. The presentation of our flag by Josephine Austin of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Benjamine F. Butler Relief Corps in 1917 will be re-enacted.

The fifth scene will be the planning of a Memorial Tree, Armistice Day, 1922, in Edgebrook Forest Preserve for husbands, sons or brothers who gave their lives in the war, by Seventh District members, and on Arbor Day, 1923, members of the District clubs planting a circle of trees around the "Parent" tree, in memory of their dear ones.

An Epilogue again shows Mrs. Baldwin at her desk, closing her scrapbook, while Mrs. Hanson, supposedly in 1960, describes the world we all hope will be a reality by then—no more poverty, wars, illiteracy or labor disputes —all presumably brought to pass by club women, who at long last have made use of their tremendous potential power for the good of mankind. The closing lines being "Little did I think I should live to vote for a woman as President of the U. S."

Customers' Corner

Packing your order may sound like a little thing, but our trained employees give it a lot of thought.

They know that it isn't right to place five pounds of flour on top of a quarter pound of butter . . . or to place soap next to cheese.

The men and women of A&P will appreciate it if you will let them have any suggestions as to how they can make a handier package for you to take home.

mony will take place, with a color guard provided by the Kenilworth council.

MOUNT PROSPECT has lined up some interesting speakers for the day, and will have a public address system in operation. The Skokie and Glenview councils will sell food in the mess hall, providing pop, ice cream, coffee and doughnuts, popcorn, and the ever-popular fish pond for Prizes is expected to be on hand.

Each family and all guests are urged to bring their own basket lunch. They can choose any one of a number of delightful spots on the camp acreage for their own picnic site.

A reception committee will hold open house in the cabin belonging to each council, and will have a guest book ready for all visitors to sign. Various articles of handicraft made and used by the girls will be on exhibit. Suburbanites are urged particularly to visit their own council's cabin and see the progress that has been made with local community cooperation in renovating these cabins for Girl Scout camping use.

ONE OF THE highlights of the afternoon's entertainment will be a huge square dance, in which both parents and children will be invited to participate. Arlington Heights Council will sell tickets for the dance among the crowd. They are providing the caller, John Dolce of WLS, and good music, and will set up a large platform in the center of the infield area to accommodate the dancers.

Donation for admission to the Fall Festival is 25 cents for everybody over 7 years of age. Children under 7 will be admitted free. Camp Pine is reached by driving to Euclid-Lake Avenue, a road that runs east and west about two miles north of Des Plaines. The trail to Camp Pine meets Euclid-Lake Avenue at the Des Plaines River bridge, which is about ¼ mile east of Route 45. This trail runs south, along the east bank of the river, about ½ mile.

Camp Pine Committee, Inc., is looking forward to welcoming all their old friends of last year, as well as new parents and guests of Girl Scouts this year. They want their various sponsoring suburbs to become well-acquainted with camp life offered at Camp Pine. Adequate village support is necessary to continue this convenient and well-arranged camp. Camp Pine offers the Grl Scouts a much-needed camping experience and outdoor living, in a beautiful setting near all of the eight villages.

Young people of Presbyterian church plan 'Retreat' October 14 at Druce Lake

Junior and senior high groups of the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights will meet at 8:30 the morning of October 14 and "retreat" via automobile to the Presbyterian camp at Druce Lake, where they will enjoy a day of relaxation and recreation, and make plans for the coming year's program.

The Senior Tuxis, evening group for senior high students, is also planning a pot luck supper this coming Sunday, October 8, at 6 p.m. All boys and girls of senior high age are invited to come for a pleasant dinner and an interesting program. The senior high group, under the direction of Robert Olsen, meets Sunday morning at the church school hour and again regularly at 7:15 Sunday evening. Mr. Olsen is a graduate of Wooster college in Ohio, and is now in his second year of preparation for the ministry at McCormick Theological Seminary, where he received a scholarship last year. A few years ago he served as moderator of the young people of the Presbytery of Detroit, and now assists in the pulpit at the morning church services of the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights.

The seventh and eighth graders, under the direction of Miss Roberta King, meet regularly at the church school hour and again, as the Junior Tuxis, at 6:30 Sunday evening. Miss King is a senior at McCormick Seminary and a graduate of Beloit college, where she majored in music. She is preparing for a full-time career in church work, and, in addition to her studies and her work with young people, also directs the adult choir at the First Presbyterian church. As a member of a summer youth caravan, she received experience helping in the work of outlying churches. She is a member of the Irving Park Presbyterian church in Chicago.

Among other youth activities at the Presbyterian church is the Junior choir, under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth Hamming, for girls from the fourth through eighth grades. It meets Tuesday afternoons and frequently sings for church services and other occasions. Three Girl Scout groups also meet at the First Presbyterian church: Scout Troop No. 20, whose leader is Mrs. Howard Lips, meets Monday afternoon at 3:30; Brownie Troop 21, under the leadership of Mrs. W. Frank Menzel, meets Thursday afternoon at 3:30, and Brownie Troop 24, with Mrs. James H. Speers as leader, meets Tuesday afternoon at 3:30.

Boy Scout Troop 32, with G. H. Knitter as leader, meets Monday evening at 7 at the church.

All young people in Arlington Heights, from seventh grade through high school, are welcome to join in the interesting and varied programs of the junior and senior groups. Sunday evening, October 15, both groups will join to hear Rev. Aulden Coble, missionary to Colombia, South America, tell of his work in that country, and to see the kodachrome slides which will illustrate his talk. Mr. Coble has been at the Ibague station in Colombia since May of 1942, and has traveled extensively in the scattered villages of the central Andes. The report of his experiences is sure to prove well-worth hearing.

Ask citizens to save subscriptions for high school magazine drive

The time is drawing nigh for the annual high school magazine drive in the Arlington Heights township high school district. Sales will begin October 26 and all citizens in the district are urged to withhold orders for new subscriptions or renewing old subscriptions until that time.

Students will be selling subscriptions to Crowell-Collier Publications this year and will promote two year subscriptions to the leading magazines of that Publications —"American," "Woman's Home Companion" and "Collier's." The reason for this is that they plan to sell subscriptions to the Crowell-Collier Publications only every other year. The off year they will handle Curtis Publications magazines.

Profits made from the drive will be divided among the various organizations in the school.

Arlington Heights OES holds Advance Officers night

Arlington Heights Chapter No. 992, OES, was host to the advancing officers September 28. The guest officers were composed of associate matrons and associate patrons of neighboring chapters.

The associate matron and associate patron of the local chapter, Veva and Park Allen, were guest officers in the East for the evening. Advancing to the West was Kathryn Newberg, and to the South, Minda Newberg, conductress of the local chapter.

Other officers who served included:

Harold Hastings, G. C. C., associate patron; Jeanette W. Magden, Glenview, secretary; William DaeHissem, Park Ridge, treasurer; Esther C. Olson, Des Plaines, associate conductress; Myrtle Frey, G. L., Arlington Heights, chaplain; Laura M. Hissem, Park Ridge, marshal; Jerry F. Ruckman, Constellation, guest organist.

Genevieve M. Hanover, Evanston, Adah; Helen Ruckman, Constellation, Ruth; Marguerite Barrowman, Palatine, Esther; Marie S. Newall, Norwood, Martha; Irma M. Rae, Skokie, Electa.

Henry Haas, Des Plaines, warder; James Smaha, Palatine, guest sentinel; William L. Milligan, Arlington Heights, sentinel; Minie Barnum, Arlington Hts., organist; Fletcher Newall, Borwood, color bearer, and Dorothy Fairbanks, P. M. Lounsbury, soloist.

The guest officers in the East, Veva and Park Allen, were given a friendly welcome by Celia Hausam, worthy matron, pro tem, and Howard Voss, worthy patron. The soloist rendered a song of greeting and Veva was presented with a beautiful bouquet of fwloers from her chapter.

The worthy matron, Dorothy Vsos, was unable to be present as she is convalescing from a recent illness.

The guest of honor for the evening was Gertrude Milligan, a member of the Cancer control committee of the Grand Chapter of OES of Illinois. A sincere welcome was given to her by Veva Allen, and she was greeted in song by the soloist and presented with flowers from the chapter.

The advancing officers and other guests in the east also received flowers and each of the advancing officers received a gift from the 1950 officers.

Visitors from many chapters were present, among them the worthy matron of Glenview, Laura Krueger, and the worthy matron from Palatine, Adelaide Thieman. There were several grand chapter committee members, Celia Hausam of Special Eligibility, Maybelle C. Jasper, Centennial, Harold Hastings, Special Transportation. The past matrons and past patrons of Arlington Heights chapter were escorted and each received a rose from Veva Allen.

The Past Matron's club had purchased a piano which was presented to the chapter by the president of the club, Agnes Olson.

A benefit party for Cancer Control is to be held at the close of the meeting October 12. Any friends are welcome to attend and help this worthy cause.

The chapter room and dining room were decorated with garden flowers and delicious refreshments were served under the direction of Edna Wennerstrand, chairman, and Maybelle C. Jasper, co-chairman. Gertrude Milligan was in charge of table decorations. Homemade cookies were donated by the officers of 1950.

1000 attend rally and tea honoring Dirksen

Over 1000 attended the rally and tea honoring the Republican candidate for the United States Senate, Everett M. Dirksen and Mrs. Dirksen, at the Woman's club of Evanston September 22.

The event was sponsored by the 13th Congressional District Republican Women's Organization, and Mrs. Alverta Stewart, chairman, presided.

Mrs. Marguerite Stitt Church introduced Mr. Dirksen, who was received with tremendous enthusiasm by the crowd.

Those from Arlington Heights and the vicinity who attended included Mesdames Clarence Hendrickson, E. J. Harris, Quentin Ford, Charles Heiss, Ira Parker, Harry Thompson, George Heiber, who is Republican committeewoman of Wheeling Republican township, Henry Busse, who is the wife of the committeeman of Wheeling township, Willis Hubbard, George Schneberger, George Hauff, Irene Hauff, Elmer Crane, Harold Peter, Clarence Davis, Henry Muller, Wallace Wood, Paul Koenig, Mrs. Carl Ewert and Miss Sarah Chambers.

Randhill Park appoints new sales counselors

Randhill Park Cemetery announces the appointment of two sales counselors, Hubert G. Carbine and David A. Grimes, to represent the Cemetery in this community.

Both men have had many years of experience as counselors in the Chicago area. They have joined the Randhill staff because they believe that Randhill is the most beautiful and modern Park Lawn Cemetery in this part of Illinois, known for its natural beauty and careful upkeep.

Millers to celebrate 50th wedding anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Herman F. Miller, 249 N. Plum Grove av., Palatine, will be at home to their friends between 2 and 5 and 7 and 9 p.m. Sunday in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary.

They were married October 11, 1900, in Arlington Heights by Rev. Roder, pastor of St. Peter Lutheran church. The two have spent all of their lives in Palatine. Mr. Miller is 73 years of age and Mrs. Miller is 69.

Prior to her marriage Mrs. Miller was Caroline Haman. She has one brother, Charles Haman of Arlington Heights. The Millers have one son, George W. Miller and two grandchildren, who reside at 139 S. Hale st., Palatine.

Mr. Miller was a farmer until 25 years ago when the price offered for the Miller's 80 acres on Roselle rd. by a proposed golf course was too attractive to refuse.

"Paddock's paper has entered our house regularly for more years than we have been married," Mr. Miller told the photographer who called on him Tuesday. He said, "My father and I were working in a field when we made the acquaintance of H. C. Paddock in 1899. He was traveling in a horse and buggy, and gave us such a good sales talk that dad subscribed. There is a lot of difference in the paper today and 50 years ago when we sold an eight gallon can of milk at the Richmond creamery for 63 cents. Farming has also changed, so have working hours."

"After moving to the village I entered the employ of Bray & Kates milk can factory, starting in the shipping department, where I worked sometimes 16 hours without any extra pay in order to complete a car for shipment," Mr. Miller concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller are members of Immanuel Lutheran church, Palatine. Mr. Miller enjoys flowers and working in his garden. They will entertain their family for dinner Sunday before their open house begins.

Palatine Legion gives $500 toward library

Palatine Post of the American Legion "cut a melon" this week and the Palatine Public Library received a fine slice.

After learning that its share of the profit from the recent Legion-Lions festival was $2,000 the veterans turned over $500 to the library fund.

Eli Skinner chapter of DAR meets in Mt. Prospect today

The Eli Skinner Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will hold its first meeting of the season October 5, at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Kester, Elmhurst rd., Mt. Prospect, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Albert Schutt and Mrs. Milton Daniels will assist Mrs. Kester as hostess.

Mrs. Don B. Stockdale will begin her second year as regent with the assistance of the following officers: vice regent, Mrs. Lawrence Kester; chaplain, Mrs. Albert Schuett; secretary, Mrs. Glenn Kaiser; treasurer, Mrs. Arthur J. Mally; registrar, Mrs. Marion W. Grigsby; historian, Mrs. Bruce L. Best; Librarian, Mrs. Milton F. Daniels; directors, Mrs. Mark M. Cleaver and Mrs. Ira S. Parker.

Mrs. Marion Grigsby will present an interesting program on "That Hobby—Stamp Collecting." Mrs. Grigsby's collection includes stamps from foreign countries as well as the United States, but she will speak chiefly on Americana in stamps, demonstrating how the traits and characteristics of a people become evident in its stamps. The first stamps came into being in England in 1840 and in the United States in 1847, and Mrs. Grigsby's collection includes stamps which date from 1851 up to the present day.

At this meeting Mrs. Stockdale will welcome to the chapter three members who have transferred from the Aaron Miner chapter in Chicago: Mrs. Walter Bracher, Mt. Prospect; Miss Mae Gibbs, Palatine; Mrs. C. T. Talbot, Arlington Heights. A short memorial tribute will be paid to charter member Mrs. Andrew Kettelson, who died September 12.

The Eli Skinner chapter was honored for having the highest percentage of attendance at the Fourth Division meeting at Park Ridge September 29, where the state officers and chairmen outlined DAR activities for the coming year.

Change TV show hour

Last week's Herald carried a story of a WBKB-TV show entitled "Necchi and the Nortons," which will be written, directed and enacted by a Heights woman, Mrs. Ruth Waldbillig.

The show, scheduled to begin last Tuesday, was changed to a Thursday schedule. It will begin today at 12:30 p. m. and will run for seven consecutive weeks.

Baptized Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Harting of 218 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, had their son, Gary Scott, christened Sunday afternoon at their home. Rev. L. V. Stephan officiated.

The sponsors were Miss Joan Sander, John Moss and Edward Heuer, the baby's great grandfather. Gary wore the same dress his father wore when he was christened.

A dinner for the family and sponsors was held following the ceremony.

Newcomers

This week we look in on Mr. and Mrs. Albert Perlin, 914 N. Illinois st., who became "New Neighbors" in our community five and a half months ago. They are cozily settled in their ranch home, all newly decorated, and are delighted with their neighborhood. They can't say enough about the friendliness of the community.

Mr. Perlin is an attorney for Montgomery Ward & Company. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan Law School, Ann Arbor, Mich., class of 1949. His main hobby right now is his home. Mr. Perlin also is interested in wood working, sports of all kinds and flying. He was a naval pilot during the last war.

Mrs. Perlin is a graduate of Knox college. She likes to read, knit and sew.

This friendly young couple was interested in finding a home in one of the Northwest suburbs, and when they came to Arlington Heights, and 914 N. Illinois st., they decided to look no further; here was where they wished to stay.

Birthday celebrations

Charlene Rehfeldt celebrated her 13th birthday last Friday evening. She was hostess to her 8th grade classmates of St. Peter's school. Several games were played and later in the evening refreshments were served. Polka dot theme was carried out in the table decorations, which were gay and colorful. Charlene is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rehfeldt.

September 22 was a dual birthday observance in the Quentin Lambert family. Little Suzie was 4 years old, and she and her Daddy had fun celebrating their birthdays together.

September 27, Mrs. Joseph Morici, Sr. was hostess at a birthday luncheon in her home. Later her guests enjoyed a jewel fashion show, demonstrated by Francis Perriman of Barrington. Those who helped her celebrate were Ann and Gloria Theis, Min Thompson, Adele Roales of Chicago, Pearl Boeckh and Martha Baer of Arlington Heights, Bernice Fitzgerald, Jean Szodkowski and Wanda Penning of Palatine, Martha Koehler of Des Plaines and her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Rhodes. Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Ehret and Mrs. Jessie Olson of Cambridge, Wis., dropped in for a visit and to extend their good wishes.

Stork Shower

A surprise stork shower was given last Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Arthur Komarek by hostesses Mrs. Bruce Silcher, Mrs. Stephen Paddock and Mrs. Norman Crandell at the Sky Crest Country club. The guests enjoyed luncheon after which bridge and canasta were played. The table was daintily decorated with tiny pink and blue baby shoes with even smaller flowers in them, they were scattered all over the table.

In the center of the table were a dozen tall candles of various colors. Those present were Mrs. John Baker, Mrs. William Sauer, Mrs. Harold Olson, Mrs. Howard Trendel, Mrs. Louise Fedderson, Mrs. Frank Menzel, Mrs. Elsie Miner from Orlando, Fla., Mrs. Paul Ramsay, Mrs. Wallace Woneldorf, Mrs. Robert Kamarek, sister-in-law, Mrs. Marion Janis and Mrs. Allan Briel. The group presented Mrs. Komarek with an Ecko Sterilizer Pressure Cooker, in addition to small, individual gifts. The winners at cards were Mrs. John Baker, first prize; Mrs. Wm. Sauer, second prize and Mrs. Harold Olson, third prize.

Family Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Garasha and family joined the other members of Mrs. Garasha's family in feting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fellows of Genoa City, Wis., on their 44th wedding anniversary Sunday. There were 6 children, 14 grandchildren and two great grandchildren present in addition to other relations.

Home from Vacation

Mrs. Edwin Ackerlund just returned home after accompanying her mother, Mrs. James Bosch, her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Geerdts and Mrs. Vera Stadell on a two-week's motor trip to Mexico. They traveled 4,000 miles and toured the southern states and Mexico. They also went up the mountains to Monterey.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hendricks enjoyed a ten day trip to Idaho recently, visiting New Meadows, Grainger and Boise.

Chit Chat

Mr. and Mrs. John Hookum attended the first meeting of the Mt. Prospect Book Review club last Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Klamm attended the Northwestern vs. Iowa State football game at Northwestern Saturday. They were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Roach of Wilmette.

Mrs. Barbara Schieble and daughter, Miss Barbara Schieble of Los Angeles, mother and sister of Mrs. Arthur Burgeson, Jr., are visiting the family.

A week end guest at the Paul Fellinghams this week was Mrs. Nina David Smith of Detroit, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. John Meck of Washington, D. C., sister of Max Rhodes, were guests of the Sr. Joseph Moricis and the Max Rhodes for three days last week.

Entertaining

Mr. and Mrs. John Kenyon of La Grange were guests of the David Kenyons last Friday.

Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morici, Sr., were hosts at a dinner party in their home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Meck of Washington, D. C. Their other guests included Mrs. Elsie Gariepy of Oak Park aunt of the Mecks, Mr. and Mrs. John Rhodes, brother of Max, of Arlington Heights, and Mr. and Mrs. Max Rhodes.

Moving to North Africa

The Emett Dooley family, who joined us as "New Neighbors" on July 1, will be leaving our community in about three weeks. Capt. Dooley is a member of the Air Force, and has just received notice that his station for the next two years will be Tripoli, North Africa. Their sons, Dennis, 8, and Jimmy, 7, have really been seeing the country, and will now add international traveling to their list. Last month Mrs. Dooley's brother and family were transferred to Germany for a three year stay.

Home from college

Chappie Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peterson, was home over the week end from Denison college. This is his first year, and he is bubbling over with enthusiasm and praise of the college. He has just been pledged to Sigma Chi fraternity.

Better Buy Buick!

PERHAPS you've noticed that there seem to be a lot of these brawny beauties running around on America's highways — and it isn't just that boldly gleaming forefront that spreads this impression.

It isn't just the fact that folks who own a Buick get such a bang out of it that they do a lot of driving.

Back of all this is another fact. It's a fact that contains a broad hint to anyone who'd like to know what's what in motorcar buys. 1950 Buicks are breaking all past popularity records, as registered in sales.

So we suggest that you do some personal investigating.

Find out, for example, how masterful you feel, with Fireball power purring away the miles, at a polite touch of your toe on the gas treadle.

Find out how the jolts and jars seem to disappear, when you have big soft coil springs on all four wheels, and fat low-pressure tires on wide Safety-Ride rims.

Then there's Dynaflow Drive,* which Buick owners vote the biggest automotive hit that has come along in years.

With all this, there's room, and comfort, and road-hugging heft combined with a light and willing response to your hand on the wheel — and prices that start down with the sixes.

Seems like almost everyone wants to own one of these Buicks — and most people can. How about you? Isn't it a smart idea to see your Buick dealer now and get your name on his list?

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Only BUICK has Dynaflow— and with it goes: HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube

FAVORITES For FLAVOR

by HESTER KLIEN

This is National Macaroni Week, so why not serve that perennial stand-by, macaroni and cheese before the week is out?

A special recipe prepared by the National Macaroni Institute suggests making a sauce of flour, seasonings and milk, and when thickened stirring in grated cheese, ¼ cup chopped pimiento and ¼ cup chopped parsley. Combine with cooked macaroni and bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven.

Spaghetti and noodle dishes are also appropriate this week. Here is an Institute recipe for each.

Spaghetti and Meat Balls

(Makes 4-6 servings)

1 lb. ground chuck beef
1 cup buttered soft bread crumbs
1 tbls. chopped onion
1½ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
2 tbls. butter or margarine
2 garlic cloves, minced
1 No. 2½ can tomatoes, strained
1 6-oz. can tomato paste
1 beef bouillon cube
1 bay leaf
1 tbls. salt
3 qts. boiling water
1 lb. thin spaghetti

Mix together beef, buttered bread crumbs, onions, ½ teaspoon salt and pepper. Shape into 12 to 18 balls. Saute in butter or margarine with garlic until browned. Remove from pan. Add strained tomatoes, tomato paste, bouillon cube, bay leaf, parsley and 1 teaspoon salt to drippings in pan. Simmer meat ball in sauce 50 to 60 minutes. Remove bay leaf. Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Dot with butter or margarine, if desired. Place spaghetti on serving plate and top with meat balls and sauce.

Noodles and Beef Stew

(Makes 4-6 servings)

1 lb. stewing beef, cut in ½-inch cubes
Flour for dredging
3 tbls. fat
1 pt. warm water
1 tbls. salt
1 tsp. paprika
1 cup small whole onions
1 cup carrots, cut in ½-inch cubes
1 cup frozen peas or 1 cup canned peas
1 tbls. salt
3 quarts boiling water
8 ounces egg noodles

Roll beef cubes in flour. Melt fat in a large heavy skillet over low heat. Brown floured beef cubes thoroughly on all sides in hot fat; add water, salt and paprika. Simmer 1 hour, or until tender, stirring occasionally to prevent sticking. Add onions and carrots. Continue cooking 25 to 30 minutes, or until vegetables are done. Add peas last 5 minutes before vegetables are tender. While vegetables are cooking, prepare noodles. Add salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add egg noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Serve stew with hot cooked noodles.

Lorraine Woerner is bride of Roger Held

Community Camera

In a candlelight ceremony held September 30, Miss Lorraine Woerner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Woerner of Itasca, became the bride of Roger Held, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Held of Arlington Heights.

Rev. E. Bergstrasser officiated at the 7:30 o'clock wedding which took place at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, Bensenville. The church was decorated with white gladioli and white and yellow mums. Mrs. Anna Magers was the organist, and Robert Langguth san "Because," "At Dawning," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride wore a white satin gown with a lace appliqued bodice, lace peplum and with lace panels in the skirt. The edge of the skirt and the train was also trimmed in lace. A satin headpiece trimmed with lily of the valley held her fingertip veil in place, and she carried a bouquet of white mums centered with orchids. She also wore a strand of pearls, gift from the groom.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Donald Brening of Arlington Heights, sister of the bride. She wore a gold satin gown with a lace bodice and carried a colonial bouquet of fall flowers with green satin ribbons.

The bridesmaids, Miss Darleen Whitney and Miss Ellen Brening, both of Bensenville, wore nymph green satin gowns fashioned with a lace bodice. They carried colonial bouquets of fall flowers with gold satin ribbons. All of the attendants wore mitts to match their gowns and gold bracelets, gifts from the bride.

Loreen Held, neice of the groom from Des Plaines, was a flower girl. She wore a rose satin colonial gown trimmed with blue bows.

Best man for the groom was his brother, Donald Held of Arlington Heights. The ushers were Wilbert Hartmann of Arlington Heights and Ralph Engelking of Mt. Prospect.

The bride's mother wore a honey-colored crepe dress with a corsage of yellow baby mums, and the groom's mother wore a teal blue crepe dress with a corsage of rose baby mums.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at Elk Grove school for 350 guests.

The newlyweds are driving through the southern states on their honeymoon and will be at home at 405 N. Elm st., Itasca, after October 15.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Fick of Roselle, announce the engagement of their daughter Lois to LeRoy E. Krause, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Krause of Keeneyville.

October is busy month for Women of Moose

Another busy month has begun for the Women of The Moose Des Plaines Chapter 835. Three dates for members to remember are Oct. 19, 26 & 28.

October 19 the Ritual committee is planning a book review which will be presented by Grace Dick, who is well known in the Chicago area for her brilliant reviews. It is expected that Mrs. C. S. Stanowicki chairman of the committee, will announce the title of the book within the next week.

October 26 is the date the Women of the Moose reserve for Santa Claus. Each year the chapters throughout the United States have "Christmas for Mooseheart" in October. Each member brings a gift for a child, and these are taken to our Child City, Mooseheart, Ill. There they are separated according to the age or size for which each gift is suitable. As there are approximately two hundred thousand Women of The Moose in the U. S., very little effort on the part of each member will assure every child at Mooseheart that Santa will not forget him or her on Christmas morning.

October 28 is the date of the Hallowe'en dance to be sponsored by the Friendship committee, whose chairman is Mrs. L. Deringer.

Nurse's club gets hospital bed for Lending Closet

The Nurse's club of Arlington Heights wishes to thank the directors of Lauterburg and Oehler's funeral home for their donation of another hospital bed to the Lending Closet.

Many calls have come for this particular equipment and the club is happy that it is able to fill these requests.

Sidelights of Arlington Heights

First birthday

Diane Inez Sharp celebrated her first birthday this week. Sunday, a group of relatives from Chicago came out to congratulate her, and Monday friends in Arlington Heights stopped in to wish her happy birthday. When Diane was born at St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin, October 2, 1949, she only weighed three pounds, and had to remain there in an incubator for two months. She now weighs 19 pounds, so her birthday was indeed a happy occasion. Diane is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Sharp, and is the granddaughter of Mrs. Alma H. Ihle.

Wednesday night Ruth Gronert celebrated her 17th birthday by entertaining her friends at a dinner party.

Mrs. Roger Grandt entertained relatives and friends last Friday evening in honor of her husband's birthday.

Mrs. Roland Bolte celebrated her birthday Monday at a luncheon.

On TV

Carol Orth was on the "Fair Teens" television show last Friday afternoon. She modeled "Back to School" clothes. Carol also modeled Saturday afternoon at the Fair Store.

Mr. and Mrs. John Boeger gave a farewell turkey dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Buell Monday night. The couple returned to Los Angeles, Calif., Tuesday.

William H. Gathman wishes to thank all the kind neighbors, friends and relatives who sent cards and their good wishes for his wife to get well. Such thoughtfulness was deeply appreciated.

Visit here

Mrs. H. P. Carstens' father, S. M. Stover, of Richmond, Va., will visit Dr. and Mrs. Carstens over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. George Zachariasen of Elm Grove, Wis., spent Sunday with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Yates and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schoepke entertained as dinner guests Monday evening Mrs. Wallace Cooper and Mrs. Adele Moller of Santa Rosa, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leeb of Des Plaines.

Mr. and Mrs. George Orth entertained Mr. and Mrs. John A. Blanco last Wednesday evening.

Tuesday Mrs. George Peter entertained her pinochle club.

Attends football game

Laurel Lawbaugh was home from college over the week end. She was one of a group of Iowa State students who chartered a bus to Chicago to attend the Iowa - Northwestern football game Saturday. They arrived Friday night and returned Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Yates and children went to Flint and Detroit, Mich., recently. They visited Mrs. Yates' sister and family in Flint.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bentz spent a few days visiting his sister, Mrs. Richard Siglinsky, in Milwaukee.

Visitor from Colorado

Mrs. Herbert W. Zimmerman, the former Carla Bloecker, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bloecker, for two weeks. This was her first trip home since she has been married. She returned recently to her home in Cripple Creek, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wilinski left recently for New York.

Last Sunday Dolores Krause, Peggy Sieburg, Junia Grimm, Judy Gassen and Carol Orth went to the Civic Opera House in Chicago to see Billy Eckstine.

Celebrate 25th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Busse celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Saturday. They entertained relatives and friends at their home. Mr. and Mrs. Busse received a beautiful mum plant, which was decorated with 50 silver dollars, from two of their sons. They also received many lovely gifts from the guests. Refreshments were served, and the men played cards. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Chase, Mrs. Busse's sister and husband from Phillips, Wis., drove down and surprised them that evening.

Return from trip

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bolte and son, Orville, recently returned from a 10-day trip West. Some of the places they visited were Rocky Mountain National Park, Colorado Springs and Denver, Colo., Yellowstone National Park, Black Hills and the Bad Lands.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Rightmire and children, Janet and James, and Mrs. Anna Adam, vacationed in the South—Kentucky, Tennessee and North Carolina. While in Tennessee they spent several days in the Smoky Mountains.

Fishing trips

Last week end Ralph Sass and his brother, Willard, of Chicago, went on a fishing trip to Lodi, Wis.

Bob Beatty, High Nickol, Paul Collins and Bill Franke went on a five-day fishing trip to Northern Minnesota. Although they had cold and rainy weather, they returned Monday with enough fish for dinner for their families.

Garden party

Mr. and Mrs. John Spiczak had a garden party in honor of Mrs. Charlotte Reynolds of Memphis, Tenn. Among the forty guests attending the party were Col. Benjamin Reisweber and Major Robert Patterson of the Marine Air Command, Glenview.

Mrs. F. W. O'Brien of Houston, Texas, is spending several weeks visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Mountain of Scarsdale Estates.

Mrs. George L. Pfingsten was among the guests attending the fortieth wedding anniversary of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Kopplin, Sr. of Chicago Saturday. A dinner was served to the guests in honor of the occasion.

Miss Laura Grothe of Arlington Heights and her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Watson and family of Brookfield, Ill., helped their mother, Mrs. C. A. Grothe of Decatur, celebrate her birthday.

Home from hospital

Mark Gordon Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Johnson, returned home Sunday after being very ill in the Children's Memorial hospital in Chicago.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clausing and Mrs. M. Clausing last week were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Henrichs and son, Nile, of Beloit, Wis., and Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Clausing of West Bloomfield, Wis. Mrs Henrichs and Nile stayed while Mr. Henrichs was in training at Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

Entertain

Miss June Pfingsten entertained Mr. and Mrs. L. Ricker and son, Jimmy, of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Laurin and twin daughters, Dana and Christie, and Clifford Harrington and Miss Joan Davis of Mt. Prospect for canasta Saturday evening.

Mrs. C. L. Stuffacher, 820 Burton Place entertained at a luncheon in honor of Mrs. F. W. O'Brien last week. The Stauffachers are newcomers to Arlington Heights.

Miss Florence Bergschneider spent last week end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bergschneider of Jacksonville, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Dueball entertained Mr. and Mrs. Otto Dueball and Miss Dorothy Dueball of Arlington Heights, and Miss Dueball's fiance, Ted Goebbert of Des Plaines, Saturday evening.

PTA Northwest Suburban Council to meet October 13

October 13 is the date set for the fall meeting of the Parent Teacher Council of Northwest Suburbs with the Palatine PTA as host Between 9:30 and 10 a. m. representatives from the entire northwest suburbs area will register at the St Philips Episcopal church of Palatine. The meeting will be called to order at 10 a. m. by the Council President, Mrs. C. L. Holcomb of Prospect Heights.

Presidents of the various local PTA will be called upon to give a brief resume of this year's plans on programs, ways and means projects as well as membership and attendance records.

H. Jordan, superintendent of Palatine schools, will speak on legislation at the morning session. St. Philip's ladies will serve luncheon at one dollar per person. Reservations may be made through the local PTA president.

The students of the Palatine schools will provide music for the opening of the afternoon program. Mrs. J. L. Klinger, past president of District 21, will be the guest speaker. Her subject, 'Parliamentary Procedure," will be of great assistance to new officers in the PTA. A discussion period will complete the day's activities. Adjournment is planned for 2:30 p. m. Anyone interested in PTA work is invited to attend this meeting.

Two Woman's club study groups to meet next week

The International Relations Study group of the Arlington Heights Woman's club will meet October 9 at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Melvin Kurtz, 805 S. Mitchell ave.

Mrs. Clyde Reading, a national flower judge, will present the program. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. E. A. Figahs, Mrs. Charles C. Purvis and Mrs. William L. Hatch.

Punch Bowl

To make a novel punch bowl for summer picnics, simply hollow out the inside of half a watermelon, and cut off a little of the rounded bottom to make a flat surface.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

An impressive outdoor ceremony in Recreation park last Saturday evening served to inaugurate the 1950-51 program of the local Boy Scouts and to reward boys who had completed work towards merit badges and ranks during the summer months.

Members of the Blackhawk district—Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Prospect Heights—held a joint ceremony. Boys belonging to the Order of the Arrow, which is an organization for honor campers based on an Indian motif, entertained and impressed the audience. They were dressed in Indian costume and lit torches to represent each part of the Boy Scout law as it was recited.

As awards were presented by Scout Commissioner L. T. McAuliffe the Order of the Arrow members built a symbolic bridge depicting each step up the ranks in Scouting.

Former Cub Scouts who had become 11 years old were received into their individual Boy Scout troops, and merit badges and badges of rank were presented to those who had earned them.

The evening's highlight came when Rick Hull, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth N. Hull of Arlington Heights, received recognition for attaining the highest rank in Scouting, the Eagle rank. His badge was presented by Scout Executive Stan Huntington and pinned on by his mother. As is traditional, his mother received a miniature Eagle pin—and his dad the box in which the Eagle badge came. Members of Rick's troop presented him an eagle ring.

The Blackhawk district of the Boy Scouts hopes to make this program an annual affair, and from the looks of things it will gather more enthusiasm from year to year and rapidly become a tradition in its own right.

That good turn

The Cub Scouts aim to show local people this Saturday that a good turn works both ways. That is the day they're making their collection of old newspapers around the village.

Householders can do a good turn for the Cub program by leaving piles of newspapers—tied together, the Cubs ask—on their curbs ready to be picked up. The boys will start early Saturday morning to make the rounds.

On the other hand, the Cubs are doing a good turn for the home owner—helping him, in fact, to clean out his basement or utility room (and, incidentally, to make more room for unused garden tools). Another thing, eliminating stacks of old papers helps considerably to reduce the danger of fire.

"Help us and help yourselves," the Arlington Cub Scouts say, "by having your paper ready early Saturday morning."

The more the merrier

Now in progress is the membership drive of the Parent-Teacher association, representing the North, South and Junior High schools. School and room mothers have been taking turns on duty all week both before school starts and after lunch to receive membership cards and dues returned by the students.

The aim, of course, is 100% membership on the part of all parents. The PTA offers parents several important advantages. Of greatest significance perhaps is the child's feeling that his mother and dad belong to "his" school.

Then, too, members have a chance at meetings to keep up with what's new in their schools as well as in education in general. They hear speakers of the caliber of Dr. Harold G. Shane, the outstanding educator who spoke so entertainingly at the September meeting. And finally, there's the spirit of fellowship that invariably prevails at the meetings. This seems like a lot for as nominal a membership fee as the PTA's.

Newcomer's club meets, elects new officers

The Newcomers Club of Arlington Heights, for the second time in its brief history, elected officers at its meeting Thursday evening.

The officers elected to serve for this term are: Mrs. William H. Fisher, president; Mrs. T. R. Anderson, vice-president; Mrs. Ray E. Johnson, secretary, and Mrs. L. Norman Hawkey, treasurer.

A hearty vote of thanks was given to the retiring officers who are Mrs. Quentin Lambert, Mrs. Jay Barker, Mrs Norman Vanek and Mrs. David Kimball. Following the business meeting games were played, and prize winners were Lyla Vancil and Merle Hefner.

A lovely refreshment table was prepared by Mrs. Wilbur Inman and her committee. In the soft glow of yellow tapers, a centerpiece of bright yellow marigolds contrasted brilliantly with gaily decorated sandwich loaves.

A costume Hallowe'en party is planned for October at which the husbands will be guests.

My husband said to me: "I want you to be the best-dressed woman in town. I know you can do wonders with a brand new sewing machine. But be sure to get the best—a Free-Westinghouse. That's a brand name we can depend on absolutely."

We looked at the beautiful new Free-Westinghouse models. I was thrilled to see how many different things they would do—buttonholes, ruffles, plaits, hems, and lots more—all so easily and quickly. "Yes, it's a marvelous machine," my husband agreed.

So now I sew the pretty clothes I need . . . and make alterations . . . even curtains and drapes. My new Free-Westinghouse is a real budget-stretcher . . . and like a tonic for me too . . . because sewing gives me such a sense of satisfaction and real accomplishment!

Eagle Scout Rick Hull headlines outdoor award program at Arlington

by ARNOLD HATCH

Approximately 100 Scout dads, mothers, Scouts, friends and officers of Blackhawk District held an outdoor Court of Honor Saturday evening at the Recreation Park, Arlington Heights, to honor Rick Hull of Troop 7 who was presented with the highest honor in Scouting, The Eagle Scout Award. Other awards presented included two Star awards and several merit badges.

Picture a mild evening without any moonlight, in fact it was pitch black darkness. The only light being from torches and the ceremonial fire which were lighted by members of the Order of the Arrow in a short effective ceremony that provided just the proper atmosphere for the outdoor Court of Honor making it an outstanding event.

IN ORDER to attain the highest honor in Scouting, which is the Eagle Scout Award said Stan Huntington, Scout Executive, Park Ridge, the Scout needs lots of encouragement from both of his parents, the whole-hearted cooperation of his Scoutmaster and all of his counsellors during the entire period which requires many months of intensive study, self sacrifice and exhaustive effort.

Members of the Order of the Arrow escorted Rick Hull before the blazing ceremonial fire. Gordon Cruickshank, committeeman, escorted Mrs. Hull to a position beside her son, while Scoutmaster Frank Wright escorted Mr. Hull also to his son's side.

Mr. Huntington paid high tribute to Rick, Mr. and Mrs. Hull and S. M. Frank Wright as he presented the Eagle Award to Rick's mother who happily pinned it on her son's lapel. Rick in return joyously pinned a miniature gold eagle on his mother's dress as Mr. Hull and S. M. Wright proudly looked on. Mr. Hull received the customary jewel case as his reward. S. M. Frank Wright presented Rick with a beautiful Eagle Scout ring. At the conclusion of the ceremony the audience responded with ringing cheers and loud applause.

Scoutmaster Wright congratulated Scout James Hinton, Troop 7, for his outstanding efforts in having completed the necessary study and activity to attain the rank of Star Scout as he presented James with the Star Scout Award.

QUENTIN FORD, District Chairman, presented the Star Scout Award to Arnold Hatch with a friendly pat on the back literally.

Ken Marble and Les McAuliffe agreed that it was a real honor to present merit badges, first and second class Scout Awards to these deserving Scouts:

VFW to entertain members, guests at annual party October 14

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of Arlington Heights will hold their annual social party October 14 and invite all comrades and their wives and guests to attend. Citizens who have been loyal to the Post during the past years are also to be guests.

Mt. Prospect VFW has offered their club house for this affair, so the party will be held at their club on Elmhurst rd., one mile north of Northwest hwy. in Mt. Prospect. This club was recently completed, members of the Post and friends doing most of the construction work.

Festivities will begin at 8 p.m. and refreshments will be served. Entertainment will also be provided during the evening. A special guest will be Dr. Edwin L. Larson of Wheeling, who is a Spanish-American War veteran, and a member of Post 981, who has been an active member for 25 years.

The Post wishes to take this opportunity to thank the Mt. Prospect Post for the courtesies extended at this time.

Post 981 will hold its next regular meeting October 13, at 8:15 p.m., at the Arlington Heights village hall. All members are requested to attend as the proposed club house program will be discussed and much help is needed to get this program underway.

Plan intensive girls' intramural sports program at Arlington

Girls of Arlington Heights township high school are embarking on an intensive program of intramural sports under the supervision of Miss Patricia Schipper, freshman and senior girls' physical education instructor.

Every high school girl is invited to participate in intramural activities which will include instruction, enjoyment, and competition in ladder-tournaments in soccer, tennis, bowling, volleyball, basketball, softball, and bowling, as well as instruction and enjoyment in tumbling and in horseback riding.

Each sport is run for a short-term basis with the exception of bowling which is scheduled for four two-month terms in order to allow the girls to participate for two, four, six, or eight months as they choose.

The program is organized with the development of leadership as one of the goals to be attained. Student leaders are chosen in each sport on the basis of seniority and ability. The leaders for the current school year are: Ann Wester, bowling; Carol Kirkaby, soccer; Joan Groth and Carol Glaeser, tennis; Genevieve Holznagel and Myrna Tawney, basketball; Darlene Chidley and Barbara Arnold, tumbling; Sue Dress, softball; Pat Shanley, basketball; and Jackie Luehring, horseback riding.

Points earned in team play will lead to numerals, emblems, and state awards in the Illinois Girls' Athletic Association with which the local chapter is affiliated.

Receive prizes at Pharmacy's opening

The following prizes were given away at the grand opening of the Arlington Heights Pharmacy last Saturday:

Theodore H. Clausing, 443 S. Evergreen, received a "His" men's set, and Normal Miller, 201 S. Mitchell, received an Elgin-American compact.

A box of Mrs. Stevens candy went to Charles W. Ross, 416 W. Wing st., and Mrs. Alfred Sander of 135 S. Pine received a Ronson Penciliter.

Famed de Paur Infantry chorus 1st on concert series

The de Paur Infantry Chorus, which will be heard in Arlington Heights October 26, by the membership of the Community Concert Association, may emphatically be called the most successful new attraction in the concert business.

The Chorus was part of the 372nd Infantry Regiment which was alerted for the Pacifi in early 1944 and moved to a departure station in Arizona. At the same time, Capt. Leonard de Paur, the noted conductor, and an infantry officer who had been on special duty with the Army Air Forces, was assigned to the regiment and placed in charge of the chorus. Capt. de Paur had previously organized and directed the famous chorus that sang in the Air Forces show "Winged Victory."

The singers continued their regular tasks, and their preparation for overseas duty, but at night they were rehearsed and polished by a real chorus master. The Army completely realized the value of this ensemble by this time and arranged a cross-country tour to spurt the current War Bond campaign.

Following the tour the 372nd Regiment, including its chorus sailed for the Pacifi. Its fame had preceded it to Hawaii and while the troops were stationed there awaiting further assignment the singers were invited to give a program for the Pacific High Command.

Girl Scout News

The Girl Scout leaders training course for all leaders in the district begins at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, October 5, at the Grade school in Palatine. Anyone wishing to attend should notify Mrs. Karl List, Arl. Hts. 7012-M.

A free 15-hour General Art course by Binney and Smith is being organized and is scheduled for Nov. 27, 28 and 29. Anyone interested in handicraft is invited to attend. Fifty persons must enroll in order to have the course, and it is not necessary to be affiliated with the Girl Scouts in any way.

Those interested should contact Mrs. Karl List, 7012-M, by Thursday of next week.

Republican women to hold fourth annual card party October 13

The Republican Country Towns Committeewomen's Organization will hold their fourth annual luncheon and card party, Friday, October 13 at 12:30 noon in the Marine dining room of the Edgewater Beach hotel.

Everett M. Dirksen, Republican candidate for the office of U. S. Senator from Illinois will be guest of honor, and speaker.

The various chairmen and their committees are working diligently to make this party the most interesting affair ever sponsored by this group.

Many beautiful prizes are being assembled and there will be a prize for each table as well as many surprises.

This organization represents the thirty Republican township committeewomen from the 30 townships of Cook county, of which Mrs. Alverta Stewart of River Grove is president.

Quartet to sing at South church

The Ladies Quartet of the Prospect Heights Choral society will sing at the South church in Mt. Prospect October 11 at a 6:30 supper.

The three numbers that the women will give are: "Tulips," "Salangadou," and "Will-o-the Wisp." Numbers by this quartet will also be featured in the society's annual concert October 29 in the Arlington Heights high school auditorium.

Spotlight on tenor-soprano duet at Prospect Heights Choral concert

Occupying the spotlight place usually accorded the guest soloist will be the duet team of Mrs. Gloria Chyrchel and Walter Daube at the sixth annual concert of the Prospect Heights Choral Society, Sunday, October 29, 8 p.m. in the Arlington Heights high school auditorium.

Both members are well-trained and experienced singers before the footlights. Mrs. Chyrchel, a soprano, studied under Senia Greve at Sherwood Musical college. For the past 15 years she has sung solo, in duets and quartets with various organizations including churches. She has been with the Prospect Heights group for 4½ years and served as its president two years ago. With this group too she has been often featured in solo, duet, or group parts. This year she will also appear as first soprano in the women's quartet.

MR. DAUBE was well liked by the audience as the tenor soloist in last year's choral concert. He has had extensive professional experience having done opera work, sung with an octette at Old Heidelberg, with other singing groups, and traveled with the Lyceum circuit. He is at present studying with Esther Hart of the Chicago Conservatory of Music.

The beautiful love duet, "Deep in My Heart Dear," from "The Student Prince" by Romberg, will be one of the numbers sung by Mrs. Chyrchel and Mr. Daube in the concert which is to be made up completely of American music of different eras and times.

New Neighbors .... IN THE CITY OF GOOD NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leistikow
706 S. Highland

It was last May 12 when Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leistikow and their daughter, Patti, moved into their shining white Cape Cod house on South Highland ave., and the results of their summer's work is much in evidence.

Mr. Leistikow, who is a compositor for the Western Newspaper Union in Chicago, has built his own garage, expertly matching its style to that of the house, and has also done further concrete work. In addition their lawn is fully seeded, and other landscaping and gardening have also been done.

Future plans call for a screened porch on the back of the house, and Mr. Leistikow has already poured the concrete slab for this.

Almost - 10 - year - old Patti, whose full name is Ruth Patricia, is in the fifth grade at South school, and has made many new friends, both in the neighborhood and at school. So far Mrs. Leistikow has been so busy with her new house that she has confined her outside activities to active membership in the PTA.

Former resident of Villa Park, this family long had its eye on a home in Arlington Heights. They had many friends in the village and were much impressed with the enthusiasm of these people about their home town.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Ewing
737 S. Highland

Newcomers who formerly lived in New Lenox, Ill., the Hubert Ewings moved into their new ranch-type shingle home in late August. After two years of searching the Ewings found this home and term it the nearest thing to their ideal possible in these days.

Son, Dan, who is 14, is enrolled as a freshman at the high school and 10-year-old Spencer is in the fifth grade at South school. They term their new schools "swell" and say they're right at home already.

Mr. Ewing is in production planning at A. B. Dick company and when his firm moved its offices from Chicago to Niles, the Ewings began scouting the north and northwest suburbs for a new home. Arlington Heights filled the bill for them as to location and type of town, and they like it here a lot.

Getting the house and yard in shape takes most of their time at present—the boys and Mr. Ewing were at work digging a driveway when we called—but Mrs. Ewing still finds time to pursue a fascinating hobby. She has nearly completed a room-size shirred rug made of multi-colored wool. The rug is nearly an inch thick and has a most luxurious feel. Another virtue is that it is reversible. This two-year project is almost finished and Mrs. Ewing, who has also made braided rugs and done other handiwork, thinks perhaps her next project will be to complete the curtains for the boys' room—they, too, have an original touch, for the boys' names are painted on them, done, of course, by their skillful mother.

BARRINGTON RISKS 18-GAME STREAK AT HEIGHTS TUESDAY

by BOB PADDOCK

It'll be homecoming time again at Bensenville high school Friday night when the Palatine Pirates arrive for their annual conference football fracas with two games on the docket. Froshsophs will meet at 6:30 while the varsity squads oppose each other at 8 p.m.

The full high school band, presentation of queen, and all the trimmings are planned for the week end. The Bensenville band is planning halftime festivities and formations certain to command the interest of fans expected to number the largest crowd of the season at the DuPage county school.

PALATINE has an outside chance to upset the dope bucket and grab victory number two of the Northwest conference season. But it's only a slim chance, for the Bisons have a 20-25 pound advantage per man in the line.

In addition the Bisons, a strong defensive team, have Currie available. He was not used in the Leyden contest in which the Bisons lost, 33-0, but looked good against the strong Franklin Parkers.

Two other outstanding players sure to see action against Palatine Friday night, according to Coach Tom Meneguin, are all-conference Iske, and second all-conference Rasmussen.

Lowell Palm will probably not play due to an auto accident in which he and Koster, also of the Bison aggregation, were hurt Sunday.

STARTING lineups:

Bensenville	Pos.	Palatine
Hilliger	LE	Abrahamson
McGlynn	LT	Gunder
Jensen	LG	Loeber
Iske	C	Mangels
Johnson	RG	Hummel
Rasmussen	RT	Sievers
Kratochvil	RE	Oesterle
Daly	QB	Zoellick
Merholtz	LH	Dejka
Parks	RH	Ross
Currie	FB	Day

CROWNING of the queen is a big feature of Friday night's festivities. Marlene Edwards will receive the award from junior class president Ralph Larson.

Snake dance through town is planned for Thursday night with a parade Friday afternoon and dance Saturday night other features of the celebration.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

Barrington's last football defeat was in mid September of 1948 when they lost at Arlington Heights 19-0 at the dedication of the Arlington lighted gridiron. Since then the Bronchos have annexed 18 straight football victories. Saturday number 19 should be chalked up at the expense of Northbrook's Vikings who definitely are not up to the usual Northbrook standard. Then next Tuesday history may repeat itself when the Bronchos go out of the conference and again engage the Arlington Cardinals. We expect the Broncho streak to end at Arlington Heights by a one touchdown margin.

True, Arlington has lost three games in a row but consider the competition —Racine, Marmion, and Kankakee. Arlington is used to playing top notch teams. Barrington is good but not as good as the teams Arlington has met to date and the Cards are hungry for a victory. Also Arlington will be fresh, having an open date this Saturday while Barrington will meet the Cards with only two days rest after the Northbrook game. This Arlington-Barrington game should draw a record crowd, particularly as it is being played on an off night.

Injury to all-league fullback dims Ela hopes

Ela had hopes of making the first division in the Northwest Conference again this year. Last season their 4-2 record gave them second. All hopes of a .500 or better season seem to have gone out the window however since Jerry Centoni, all-conference fullback, chipped an ankle bone in the Bensenville game. Centoni will be out two more weeks after this, missing four of the seven league games. On top of that, Dahm, their veteran quarterback, has been side lined with a sprained ankle.

Coach Bill Leyman has developed a good line at Ela from inexperienced boys. They held Barrington very well but the Broncho passing attack broke up the ball game. With Centoni available Ela would have had a chance for a 4-3 record, with him out they will be lucky to make it 2-5.

Wauconda has winning spirit and playing good football

If Wauconda does not win a game this year, repeating last year's record, it will not be from lack of spirit and will to win. They had all that any coach could desire of this last Saturday when they engaged Palatine. It was only lack of reserves which cost them a victory. We think they are going to win at least one this year particularly if Nolan, Schuringa, and Sutko continue to play the ball they did Saturday.

All three looked like all-conference nominees in that game, over shadowing anything Palatine had to show. Shuringa tackled Palatine for not less than five losses. Nolan was in on nearly every play and with Shuringa made two thirds of the Wauconda tackles. Opposing teams better take the Bulldogs seriously this year or they may find themselves the loser.

Barrington end a strong candidate for all-state recognition

The Northwest Conference has one player who should be a strong candidate for all-state. Steve Roake of Barrington stands six two and weighs 175 pounds. He is the top player in the league to date and showing better every contest. Last Saturday he added to his bid for Chicagoland and all-state recognition when he snared two touchdown passes and ran 25 and 60 yards respectively to score.

On another occasion he took a punt from the safety position and ran it back 50 yards to the Ela two yard line, setting up an easy touchdown. Back in 1942 Dale Barnstable of Antioch made all-state end. Barrington has his equal in Steve Roake.

Wauconda-Antioch game looks like Bulldogs best chance to get a victory

This week in the Northwest Conference we are picking Bensenville to beat Palatine 18-7 mainly on superior line play where the Bisons will have a big weight advantage. We think that Barrington will drub Northbrook by 40 to 0. Grant will find Ela tough but has too much speed and down field blocking for the Bears. Grant will win 20 to 6.

The closest game of the week will be at Antioch where Wauconda's team, starved for a victory, may finally get one. We will go out on a limb and pick Wauconda to win by 7-6.

Elimination among league leaders starts next week

At this point the Northwest Conference appears to be a three team battle. The rest of the teams appear rather evenly matched. Barrington has the best balanced club. Grant has a very strong offense. Bensenville appears to be mighty tough defensively.

A glance at the schedule shows that the narrowing down process among the leaders starts in another week when Bensenville plays at Grant. The next week the Bisons meet Barrington and then Barrington takes on Grant. There will be a headliner each week and when it is over we are going to be very surprised if there is any team on top other than Barrington's Bronchos.

Your guess is as good as ours when it comes to picking the rest of the positions in the final standings.

Card frosh gridders lose to Leyden, 7-0

by RON PRELLBERG

Eleven Arlington yearling gridders suited up against a visiting Leyden Eagle frosh squad last Thursday and by the termination of the final whistle the young Cards had proved that one of the finest freshman teams was in existence at AHTHS even though they dropped the tilt 7-0.

Arlington's forward wall gave a top performance while a better than average passer was uncovered in Dick Winterbauer. These local gridders should go a long way in the West Suburban Conference if they display the will to win as they did Thursday.

The only score of the game favored Leyden after the Cards fumbled on their own 11 yard stripe. A series of plunges then netted the Eagles a TD and an extra point.

Bears hope to regain victory against Cardinals

"We'll get no mercy from those Cardinals," said George Halas, speaking of Sunday's Bear-Cardinal classic at Wrigley Field. "Some folks thought the south siders were weak, disorganized, and lacked spirit. Sportswriters were giving our Bears a walk-in when we met Curly Lambeau's men.

"But all such gloom disappeared Monday night when the Cardinals tallied seven times the second half. We'll have a battle on our hands Sunday, and will be out there hoping to win at least one of the two Cardinals tilts this year."

From the deep south were coming echoes to the effect that "after that Green Bay defeat those Bears will be chomping at the bit to show their hometowners they can stop interceptions and punt returns."

AT ANY RATE a full house is certain to be on hand for the opening kickoff at 2 p. m. Sunday in Wrigley Field. The two teams meet again December 10 at Comiskey Park for the other half of the 1950 series.

Bear fans brave enough to dare northern blasts Sunday, particularly icy from the last quarter on, were ridden out of town in quick fashion. Second guessers thought a larger ground game might have changed the result, but if those passes had been completed instead of intercepted, a Bear walkaway would have been in evidence.

At any rate, Gene Ronzani, one of six playing and coaching former Bears with the Packers, is definitely of age and one jump ahead of Joe Stydahar of the Los Angeles Rams—he put one over on Papa Bear, himself.

Bisons beat Antioch, 19-13

Superior play on the ground enabled the Bensenville Bison football aggregation to outscore Antioch Saturday night, 19-13, on the DuPage county field. This week the locals play host to Palatine in their homecoming tilt.

The Bisons ran out 17 first downs against the Sequoits, almost doubling the visitors' nine. Yards gained by rushing favored the locals, 145-89. Completed passes of four of eight, compared to one of six also served to explain the defeat of the northerners.

Haviland recovered a Bensenville fumble in the first quarter, running eighty yards for the score. Then, until Luberman caught his pay dirt pas in the fourth period, scoring was nihil for Antioch. Guberman added the extra point.

BISON SCORING started when Daly went over from the two yard line in the first quarter. Iske intercepted a pass the third frame and ran forty yards for the touchdown.

Merholtz went four yards off tackle for the final TD the same period. Currie kicked the conversion.

Hard tackling and blocking was evident the entire game, with Antioch looking much better than they did the previous week when they bowed to Northbrook, 16-6.

Arlington cross country team beats Palatine

Arlington Heights cross country team beat Palatine 27-31 in a close meet at Palatine last Friday afternoon. Palatine won the first two places by a wide margin as Gerry Herrmann took first and Richard Ury captured second. However the next Palatine man, Don Rogers, placed sixth while Jim Schmidt was 10th and Bill Senne, 12th. Lockhart took third, Clark got fourth, Meyer fifth, Meisner seventh and Prellberg eighth for the Cardinals.

Herrmann's time was 47 seconds faster than the best Arlington man as he ran the Palatine course in 11:17.

Hunters! Don't shoot now, it may be Shiela

If there were some way to pin a medal on a duck, a somewhat mournful-looking shoveller hen might sport a bronze disc for reliability and faithful service to science, the Wildlife Management Institute reports.

Every year since 1947, just after the break-up of the ice on the vast Delta Marshes of Manitoba, this duck, long ago dubbed "Shiela" by personnel of the Delta Waterfowl Research Station, has returned to the same little patch of grass to nest. During this time, she has produced some 60 known eggs and has returned to a spot within two hundred yards of previous nesting sites each season despite the fact that research workers at the Station have taken her eggs, have trapped her repeatedly, and have daubed her wings with red paint for ease in identification. Ignoring these invasions of her privacy, she has turned up regularly each year ready to go to work as soon as spring has pushed the snows and ice north of her favorite meadow.

Shiela's activities, carefully recorded by Lyle Sowls, biologist on the Delta staff, have contributed valuable data on the renesting and homing habits of waterfowl that may be applied in future management programs.

In the event that fate and a charge of chilled sixes should interfere with her plans for the coming year, the hunter who brings her to bag still can help her make one last contribution to human knowledge of her kind by returning her band, No. 47-604004, to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Palatine Eagles, Franklin Park in scorless tie

by TOM HART

The Palatine Eagles and Franklin Park battled each other to a scoreless tie at Community Park Sunday evening in a terrific football game which for hard playing and fierce tackling and blocking reminded one of the big pro games.

The teams were evenly matched and with a wealth of substitutes fresh men were sent in frequently by both sides, keeping the game a fierce battle from the first whistle to the final gun.

Both teams had costly penalties which neutralized some beautiful gains and the breaks of the game were about equal.

PALATINE lost a touchdown on a fine play which started with an intercepted pass and wound up with a lateral on which the runner crossed the goal line, but the lateral had gone a little forward and the ball was called back.

Franklin Park then held and the danger was over. The punting on both sides was fine and the ends covered the punts in grand style preventing any long run backs.

Most of the game was contested in mid field and every time one team threatened the other held and took the ball.

It was apparent early in the game it was going to be an even battle and that for either team to win there would have to be some kind of break.

BOTH TEAMS fought valiantly for that break but neither could spring a man loose to score.

The game was a fitting equal to the other great battles in the Cardinals hope to repeat '48 victory over Bronchos; but will have to be 'up' to do the trick

by BOB PADOCK

Barrington high school gridders come back to Arlington Heights Tuesday night, October 10, seeking to make amends for the 19-0 defeat handed them the last trip there September 17, 1948, with an 18 game winning streak hanging in the balance. The Bronchos play host to Northbrook Saturday afternoon and should boast a 19-0 record by game time, 7:45 p.m.

Arlington always has been a nemesis for Barrington grid squads. The season of 1948 was no exception. Barrington was unscored upon that '48 year except for those three touchdowns made by the locals. After that game the Broncs went on to beat Bensenville, 26-0; topped Northbrook 38-0; outscored Antioch 50-0; trounced Palatine 38-0; and beat Grant, 34-0, totaling 186 points in all.

FOUR BOYS, starters in that last loss by Barrington in '48, will again be donning suits Tuesday night. Steve Roake is the only Barrington youth still with the team, and is very much in evidence this season.

For the Cardinals three linemen will be out there fighting for Coach Curtis Larsen, all in the starting lineup the last time the Bronchos lost a game. They are Bob Bartlett, Bob Schulze and George Kovacik.

Just one game is on the docket for that night, the varsity contest starting at 7:45. When athletic relations were reestablished between the two schools this year Tuesday night in the middle of the season was chosen to give both teams experience prior to the contest.

It was also felt that some fans, unable to attend regular games on Friday nights, could see this one Tuesday.

GOOD INDICATION a record crowd will be on hand is the delegation of 650 tickets for the game to Barrington high school. According to athletic director Les Harman "we'll bring most of the town with us."

Arlington's sports director Wally Grace predicted a crowd equal to the "lights dedicating" 3,000 that turned out for that 1948 contest at Heights. "We still have reserved seats on sale for the Barrington game at $1.10, which can be acquired at the high school."

STARTING lineups:

Palatine finally pushes across to edge Wauconda

Reserve strength told the tale as Palatine came from behind to nose out Wauconda Saturday afternoon 7-6. The Bulldogs scored in the first quarter and failed to convert. Palatine tallied at the close of the third period as Day plunged over from the one foot line and Ross got the winning point on a line smash. It was a moral victory for the Wauconda team seeking its first victory in two seasons.

Palatine marched 46 yards in the first quarter but fumbled the ball away to Wauconda on the 18 yard stripe. On the first play Sutko circled Palatine' right end for a 53 yard gain. Pryor and Kersten picked up three yards and an 11 yard pass to Moestue made it first down on the Palatine 16. After Pryor made four yards through the middle Sutko ran around the Palatine left end 12 yards to score. A bad pass from center eliminated a chance for the extra point.

A fumble stopped Palatine in the second quarter on the Wauconda 34 and a little later Wauconda lost the ball on downs on Palatine's 31. Statistics of the first half favored the fighting Wauconda team in every respect except first downs, but their offense ended at the half.

PUTTING UP a stubborn fight to hold their lead Wauconda stopped one Pirate drive on the 10 yard line. Nolan punted out 41 yards but the Pirates came right back. Day had a 10 yard gain and Ross a 5 before Bob Meyer ran 24 yards to the Wauconda 14 yard line. Day was stopped but Ross hit off left tackle for 13½ yards and Day scored from the one foot line. Ross got the call of the extra point on a close decision.

Before the game ended Wauconda traveled to the Palatine 35 on a 10 yard pass to Nolan and a 13 yard sprint to Sutko. Palatine appeared on their way with a drive from their own 35 to the Wauconda 21 when the game ended.

Dan Day and Dick Ross did most of the Palatine ground gaining. The line stiffened defensively in the second half but was badly outcharged during the first two quarters. Sutko at fullback and Nolan and Shuringa in the line were the outstanding players in Wauconda's strong bid for victory. Nolan, playing tackle on defense, was in on nearly every play. Most of Palatine's losses were on tackles by Shuringa.

Palatine frosh whip Bensenville

Palatine freshmen defeated Bensenville Tuesday afternoon 21-7. The Palatine first year boys had a height and weight advantage and enough deception on reverses to free backs for a good many long gains. Russell Jesse scored two touchdowns and plunged over all three extra points. Norman Stenzel scored a touchdown on a 40 yard end run. Tinker Meyer gained a lot of yardage for the Pirates. Palatine led 14-0 at the half and 21-0 going into the final period when Bensenville opened up on passes and scored on a 30 yard play with Bert Heuer the receiver. Heuer also caught a pass for the extra point.

The next game for the Palatine frosh is at Antioch Wednesday, October 11.

Ice Follies opens at Chicago Arena

Ice Follies of 1951 opened a limited engagement Thursday night, October 5, at the Chicago Arena. The new 1951 edition celebrates the fifteenth anniversary of the celebrated Shipstads and Johnson revue.

Brilliant costumes and spectacular and breath-taking production share honors with the unsurpassed skating artistry. Helen Rose of Metro Goldwyn-Mayer again has designed the gorgeous costumes. Ice Follies of 1951 feature six original musical numbers composed of Larry Morey of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" music fame. Hilarious comedy punctuates the thrilling two and one-half hour performance from beginning to end.

Besides nightly peformances, Ice Follies of 1951 will have Saturday and Sunday matinees at the Arena. Tickets are on sale at the Arena box office and also at Lytton's at State and Jackson in the Chicago loop and Evanston. Mail orders are being accepted at the Arena, 333 E. Erie st., Chicago.

Niles frosh make it unanimous. Lose to Proviso, 47-6

by WESLEY MARX

With a powerful offense and a hardened defense the Proviso frosh football squad ruined the debut of the Nilehi frosh 47 to 6 at the Nilehi field last Saturday.

The frosh Trojans' lone score was an aerial from Chuck Riley to Jim Batterbury who sprinted 65 yards to the goaline upon catching the pass. Nice interference by George Simmons paved Battenbury's way.

Two of Proviso's six touchdowns were credited to Joe Dembert, speedy left halfback who specialized in end sweeps.

Heights yearlings beat Barrington frosh-sophs, 32-12

by RON PRELLBERG

A complete reversal of form was displayed last Tuesday by the Red Bird frosh-sophs as they downed a highly publicized Barrington frosh-soph team on the Arlington Heights field, 32-12.

Arlington's sparkling offensive showing was featured mainly by an accurate passing attack, while in the defensive department the locals' tackling took the leading role. An easy victory was sighted by the Bronchs before game time as they had swamped Palatine who had previously trounced Arlington but it was evident the Cards hit a hot streak and didn't let up until the final whistle. A new sensation was uncovered in the person of Paul Mitch whose expert generalship from behind the center spot proved to be a main link in the local victory.

BARRINGTON WON the toss and chose to receive. The Bronchs were not in possession of the pigskin long as a fierce tackle resulted in a fumble which was recovered by the red and white. In five plays the local frosh-soph's first TD of the year was in the record books along with their first extra point as the result of a plunge. Heights' thirteenth and fourteenth markers were notched in identically the same manner.

Pay dirt was again reached twice by the Red Birds the second segment but they failed in both attempts for the point after touchdown.

Barrington got back on their feet the third period and was able to render the quarter scoreless. A seal was put on the Cardinal tallying in the fourth frame when Tom Threlkelv's 50 yard sprint after a pass interception was ruled good for six more markers. The try for the point by placement was fumbled. Two touchdowns were allowed the visiting Bronchs before their homeward journey both of which occurred late in the final segment.

Tom Tice, Francis Lyons, Bob Calliento, Don Hoth, Maurice Hollahan were pictured as the Cardinals main backfield threats.

Jerry Otto sparks Kankakee in 13-0 defeat over Arlington

by RON PRELLBERG

A pile driving two hundred and ten pound Kankakee full back by the name of Jerry Otto sparked his troupe to a 13-point final half rally in a courageous and successful effort to subdue the visiting Cardinal varsity charges 13-0 in a night session last Friday. An attitude of confidence was distinguishable among the Kankakee ranks as the hosts entered the tilt with a 6-0 upset from the previous week over a powerful Danville aggregation under their belts.

Mere determination enabled Otto to reach the end zone on two five-yard pay dirt thrusts while his educated toe honored him with their only successful conversion. A steel barrier was thrown against the Kankakee lot, however, in the center portion of the Cards' line when Bob Schulze, Jim Intravartolo, and Bob Bartlett blasted any attempted power plays over the center. Paul Roche, Arlington's main offensive threat, let loose with a string of deceptive dashes and pass catches which kept the locals in the running till the gun sounded the close of the first half.

ARLINGTON'S FIRST scoring opportunity occurred early in the opening period when the Red Birds claimed possession of the pigskin on the hosts' twenty after racing back a wobbly Kankakee punt. The Cards failed in four attempts to pick up the necessary yardage and from there Kankakee worked its way to the local forty-yard marker by the termination of the first frame. The score board went unchanged throughout the second segment as both squads dug in and beat back a pair of TD assaults.

The second half kickoff sailed clear of the Red Birds and bounded far into the end zone where it was placed on the twenty. Three swift line bucks followed to give the Cards a first and ten on their thirty but a fifteen yard punishment proceeded for offensive holding. Heights' Roche then attempted to punt his mates out of danger but his high but short boot bestowed upon Kankakee a first and ten on the locals' thirty-five.

In five plays the home eleven had advanced the ball to the Heights' six-yard stripe and on the sixth attempt Otto smashed over the Red Bird right side for the tally. The point after touch down was ruled complete. A loud burst of cheers again rose from the Kankakee stands as with only a few minutes gone in the final quarter Otto climaxed an eighty-yard scoring march by plunging over from the three on fourth down. The conversion went wide of the up rights.

No game is scheduled for the Cardinals this week but they will encounter Barrington the following Tuesday on Arlington's gridiron. This tilt should prove more than interesting as the Bronchos have not dropped a contest in 18 games.

Niles sophs lose to Proviso eleven, 50-7

by RAY SPENCER

Last Friday night at Proviso high school, Maywood, the Trojan sophomores were handed a stunning defeat by the scrappy Proviso team whose diversified attack was paced by the running of Don Aceto, halfback.

The Trojans were the first to reach paydirt scoring on an aerial from Dick Meyer, quarterback, to Lou Turcany, end. Ray Riha, halfback, made the conversion on an end run.

The Provisomen, surprised but not worried, hurriedly struck back on a 60-yard run by Aceto for a tally. From then on the game was completely theirs.

More grid injuries than usual past week

Football is a contact sport and there are bound to be some injuries once in a while. Good equipment, good coaching, and improved officiating keeps injuries at a minimum. Just this past week a number of injuries have occurred. Centoni of Ela chipped an ankle bone in a game at Bensenville and the next Saturday Charles Bock, Antioch's star fullback, suffered a broken arm in a Bensenville game. Last week end Fred Cochran, Barrington's frosh-soph team quarterback ended his football playing for the year with a broken arm in a game against Crystal Lake.

Bill Kleiner of Arlington Heights, who was all conference end at Northern Illinois Teachers of DeKalb last year, is out of football with a broken leg. As he caught his third touchdown pass of the game against Omaha university, he was tackled in the end zone and a compound fracture resulted. Down at Bensenville two varsity subs are out with injuries due to an auto accident. Their car turned over when they tried to avoid hitting a car which had failed to stop at a stop sign. So there are quite a few boys looking on who would like to be in there playing this coming week end.

Water boy becomes drop kick specialist

Color was added to Barrington's game with Ela last week when Ernie Gerlach, the varsity manager and water boy, went into the game and drop kicked three points after touchdowns. Gerlack practiced drop kicking a good deal when his services were not required for other purposes at football practice. He really attracted the attention of Coach Frederick when he drop kicked 35 straight one afternoon last week.

So Ernie Gerlack graduated from water boy to a position of importance on a team which will undoubtedly win the conference championship. It just goes to show what a lad can do who has a little talent and a willingness to make the most of it through hard work.

Eagles tie

series between these two teams and the 0 to 0 result only intensified the high rivalry between these two evenly matched eleven. Just 13 points have been scored in four games between the two squads.

The Eagles will meet the powerful Westmont team, another traditional rival, this Sunday night at Community Park at 8 p.m. and another thrilling battle is looked for in a game that should fill the stands.

That the Eagles are in superb condition for their big game was shown by the way they came through the grilling battle Sunday night and they will play plenty of football the rest of the season. If you want to see some real hard football come out and see the Eagles in their remaining games.

The closest either team came to a touchdown was their opponents' 25 yard line.

Bob Douglas, captain of the Eagle squad, played one of the best games in his football career. Tom Moody also turned in a spectacular game at quarterback.

Other outstanding men were Oren Breda from Arlington and Iowa State college; Ted Brocke, also of Arlington; and Pete Phillippe, ex-Palatine man.

Scout council holds meeting at Park Ridge

by ARNOLD HATCH

Twenty-two members of the N. W. S. Council executive board met at the residence of Marty Hapeman, Park Ridge, 8:00 p. m., September 25th to review administrative activities the past few months and take such action deemed necessary for a more efficient future administration of Scout affairs.

Finance: Doug Armstrong, Finance Chairman, reported financial drives so far this year have been gratifying, but due to the influx of several new Cub and Scout units and additional costs at Camp Napawan our financial goals were not high enough, consequently the finance situation needs correcting as soon as possible. These amounts, added Mr. Armstrong, turned in to date during the year have nearly all been used up: Lake Zurich—$177, Barrington—$1368, Arlington Heights—$2264, Mt. Prospect — $1311, Prospect Hts. —$415, Park Ridge—$7182, Morton Grove $698, Skokie—$1232, and Lincolnwood—$1721.

Organization and Extension: John Speer, chairman, advises that several new units are in progress of organization and several new charters have been requested. Sponsors have been found but leadership still is a problem.

Advancement: Marty Hapeman declared there was a tremendous amount of advancement this year and he hopes that it will continue. A lively discussion in which it was recommended that individual Districts be granted permission to conduct unit Board of Reviews and Court of Honors instead of the established method which is on a District basis.

Camping; Otto Harz, chairman, says that our Outdoor Camp in Wisconsin was filled to capacity and he anticipates a 50 per cent increase for next year. The present facilities however, will not permit of such an increase unless more finances are forthcoming to purchase additional equipment for another complete unit. A new much needed shower has been built but due to the lack of funds necessary plumbing equipment cannot be installed at present. Mr. Harz sincerely hopes that some business organization in our Council will take it upon themselves to contribute the necessary equipment to complete this urgent improvement. Please contact Boy Scout Headquarters at Park Ridge. It is unfortunate that deserving Scouts who wish to attend the oudoor camp cannot come because of the limited facilities.

Training: Wally DeBuhr, chairman, believes that more interest is being shown in leadership training so his committee has planned several training courses which he hopes to get started soon.

Districts: Bart Meays of Signal Hill. Quentin Ford of Blackhawk, Byron Foote of Algonquin, Roy Schmidt of Maine-Ridge and Henry Wetmore of Skokie say that their respective districts have held initial meetings and Scout and Finance programs for the coming year have all been arranged or are being planned.

Nominating Committees: Wm. Kratt, Council President, appointed John Speer nominating committee chairman and the five District Chairmen as a committee in making up the list of suggested officers for the coming year. Last year's Silver Beaver Award recipient. Eric Church, becomes the chairman of the committee who will select this year's person to receive the Silver Beaver Award, added Mr. Kratt and the annual meeting and election of officers will be held December 5, 1950, place to be announced later.

Delicious refreshments were served by the Hapemans to these executive board members: Wm. Kratt, Stan Huntington, Otto Harz, Al Baker, Doug Armstrong, Marty Hapeman, John Speer, John Bell, Frank Griffin, Wally IeBuhr, Cecil Nixon, John Gillick, Byron Foote, Eric Schalk, Henry Wetmore, Quentin Ford. Tony Girard, LeRoy Schmidt, Bart Meays, Eric Church, Arnold Hatch, George Sheppard.

Chordmen to present program here October 19

October 19 the Chordmen will appear at Arlington Heights high school at 8 p. m. under the sponsorship of St. John's Episcopal church Evening Guild.

The Chordmen is a versatile quartet which sings A Capella and with accompaniment. The complete program will be varied with popular, barber shop, semi-classic, spiritual and novelty pieces.

The quartette has appeared on five television programs. The young men sang for twelve weeks in the "Whiffenpoof Review" at the Blackhawk Resturant in Chicago. They appeared for two years with the Wayne King orchestra and have also given programs at more than 40 Woman's clubs throughout the Chicago area.

The Chordmen will sing before the Arlington Heights high school assembly October 13 from 2:40 to 3 p. m. They may be heard over station WGN-TV on Nash Air Flight Review October 5 at 7:30 p. m. November 3 they will do vocals for the Ice Show at the Boulevard room at the Stevens hotel in Chicago.

For information regarding tickets phone Mrs. George Magnusson, Mt. Prospect 2550-W.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 8, will be:

ARE SIN, DISEASE, AND DEATH REAL?

The Golden Text is:

"Salvation belongeth unto the Lord: thy blessing is upon thy people" (Psalms 3:8).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon, the following are from the Bible:

"And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them: Insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Israel" (Matt. 15:30-31).

The Lesson-Sermon includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Sickness is a growth of error, springing from mortal ignorance or fear . . . What causes disease cannot cure it. The soil of disease is mortal mind, and you have an abundant or scanty crop of disease, according to the seedlings of fear. Sin and the fear of disease must be uprooted and cast out . . . It breaks the dream of disease to understand that sickness is formed by the human mind, not by matter nor by the divine Mind . . . Sickness as well as sin, is an error that Christ, Truth, alone can destroy" (pp. 188, 396, 251).

Youngsters jam 'loop' during National Kids Day

Community Camera

Kids Day was a big event in Arlington Heights as can be seen by the crowds of youngsters who participated in the event.

The top photo shows the youngsters pouring out of the Arlington Theatre following the special movie held Saturday morning in connection with Kids Day. "Anything on Wheels," the theme of the parade that took place in the afternoon, was being assembled at the fire station in the middle photo.

Break ground for new Bible church

Pastor Gephart, with shovel, and members of the official board of Prospect Heights Bible church breaking ground Sunday for the new church.

Ground breaking ceremonies for the first unit of the proposed new building to house the Prospect Heights Bible church were held at 3 p.m., Sunday afternoon, October 1.

The service, which was conducted by the new pastor of the church, Floyd E. Gephart, opened with the singing of the hymn "What a friend we have in Jesus" and the reading of Chronicles II, chapter II as a scripture lesson. Rev. William Tecklenberg, pastor of the Bible Faith church of Des Plaines, offered prayer.

THE NEW CHURCH which will be located at the corner of Wheeling and McDonald rds., is of conservative, modern design and when completed will seat approximately 150 worshippers. Facilities for the conduct of an efficient Bible school have been incorporated into the building plans, which will also include a sound-proofed nursery for the accommodation of parents of young children during the worship services.

The official board of the church is composed of Messrs. Julius Swanson, John Dean, Thomas Davidson, Gustaf Nyman, Frank Philander, and E. C. Green.

Bollman honored by teachers leaves to take over principalship

More than one hundred teachers and administrators met at the North Shore hotel in Evanston Wednesday, Sept. 27, to honor Milton Bollman, formerly Assistant County Superintendent of Schools. The reason for the dinner and ceremony was the fact that Mr. Bollman is leaving his post in the county office to become Principal of the Oakton School in Evanston.

Mathew P. Gaffney, Superintendent of New Trier township high school, Herbert Mulford of Wilmette, and Edward Simon, County Superintendent of Schools were speakers. All spoke in praise of Mr. Bollman's ability and record as an educator or gave him advice regarding his new position. Linton Melvin, of Evanston Township High School, presented the gift from the teachers to Mr. Bollman, a beautiful leather brief case.

The committee arranging the occasion were Irene Hynes, Principal of the Golf school, Marie Murphy, Principal of Avoca school, Ralph Clabaugh, Superintendent of Schools in Arlington Heights, and N. E. Watson, Superintendent of the Northfield township high school district. Dr. Watson, who is well known as a raconteur, acted as master of ceremonies.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bollman spoke briefly in appreciation of the occasion.

Annual meeting of Bible church Ladies Missionary Society

Explorer Scouts hold first rendezvous at Deer Grove

The first Explorer Scout Rendezvous of the Northwest Suburban Council was an outstanding success. The Rendezvous was held on the sloping banks above the lake at Deer Grove. Jack Dawson, who is associated with Ship 102 in Park Ridge, was director of the program.

A land ship was set up in the middle of the area and Explorer Crews from the Council territory arranged their tents around the land ship. The Explorer Crews moved into camp Saturday morning and spent the day in rigorous activity which included: 2-man canoe paddle race, 6-man hand paddle canoe race, heaving line throw for accuracy, life ring throw for accuracy, tug of war, throw for accuracy, tug of war, knot tying, lashing and rigging.

The Explorers had a picnic lunch at noon and cooked their own supper over charcoal. On Sunday morning, an outdoor worship service was conducted by Rev. Calvin Robinson, associate pastor of the Methodist church of Park Ridge. Explorers and leaders were then served a Paul Bunyan breakfast. Activities were finished, winning Explorers and Crews were presented with ribbons, and the winning plaque was presented to Ship 102.

EXPLORERS from 8 Crews participated in the Rendezvous. Crews represented were Post 101, sponsored by the Methodist church of Park Ridge; Post 137, sponsored by the Lutheran Laymen's League, St. Peter Luth. church, Arlington Heights; Post 18, sponsored by Philip Carpenter Post 66, Wheeling; Post 107, sponsored by Arlington Heights Lions Club; Post 104, sponsored by Mel Tierney Post, American Legion in Park Ridge; Post 117, sponsored by the Men's Club of St. Luke's Luth. church, Park Ridge; Ship 102, sponsored by Community church of Park Ridge and Post 109, sponsored by Palatine Lions Club.

Explorer leaders present were: Martin Freeman, John Rahn, Milton Blohm — Arlington Hts.; Joh. S. Naber—Wheeling; Rod Dodds, Richard Calhoun, Carl Normann, Theo. Vayo, Clyde Eckhardt, Jack Dawson, Howard Cook, Carl Schmitz, Paul Loeffler—Park Ridge; Ray Mills — Palatine. Assistant Scout Executive Frank G. Griffin and Scout Executive Stanley H. Huntington assisted with the program. T. R. Smith, member of the Camping and Activities committee, from Des Plaines, helped with the judging and inspection.

All the Explorer leaders who helped with the program and all the Explorers agreed that the first Explorer Rendexvous was an outstanding success.

'Barber Shop' singers get good start; invite others to join

The future of Barber Shop singing in Arlington Heights is assured if the plans of 18 enthusiasts who met at the high school Monday night are realized.

The meeting was called with the idea of incorporating the group into the adult education program which will enable them to use high school facilities without rental charge.

The "Lombardiers," a group of men from the Barber Shop singers of Lombard, were on hand to advise the local group chorus on the points of organization. Led by their inimitable Herman, they demonstrated by their brilliant and beautiful harmony what can be accomplished in Barber Shop singing.

The Distaff side of the project was also present in the form of a Ladies Quartette under the management of Mrs. Edward C. Wahl who is one of its members. Their fine technique and harmony was a revelation to the local chapter as to what can be accomplished by lady singers.

Local members are looking forward to the meeting next Monday evening in room 206 at the high school at which time the matter of choosing a leader will be considered. Each fellow present stated that he would be on hand again and would bring another singer along with him.

Scum on Cocoa

The scum which forms on cocoa as it cools should not be discarded, since it contains calcium salts which are healthful. Just beat the cocoa with an egg-beater lightly, and the scum will be broken up so that the cocoa can be enjoyed with its full nutritional content.

Proviso mauls Niles squad, 60-6

by FRED DAESCHLER

The Trojans from Nilehi took it on the chin last Friday night, September 15, as Coach Virgil Van Cleave's boys were overwhelmed by the Pirates from Proviso, 60 to 6. The game was played before a near-capacity crowd under the lights on the Proviso home field.

The Pirates quickly racked up 15 points in the first quarter as half back Ronald Trobiani swept through the center of the Trojan line for the score. Bob Gatti, who scored 18 points in the contest, made the conversion putting Proviso ahead, 7 to 0.

Minutes later as the Trojans prepared to kick from their own 5-yard line, punter Ronald Gawrys was tackled in the end zone for an automatic safety, making it 9 to 0 in favor of Proviso.

WITH THE FIRST quarter drawing to a close Proviso Quarterback, Mike Provenzano, ramped across the goal line. The conversion was missed, the score remaining Proviso 15, Nilehi 0.

The Pirates counted up two more touchdowns, one in their second period and the other in the third before the Trojans exploded for their first and only score when Ronald Gawrys reeled off an 85-yard run as he slashed his way down to the Pirate's 10-yard line. Roger Doyle, half back, then crashed to the five, where full back, Russell O'Grady plowed over for the touchdown, making it 28 to 6.

AFTER THE TROJAN touchdown the game was in the hands of Proviso until the finish. The Proviso half back, Alonzo Brown, came up with the most spectacular run of the game as he gathered in a Nilehi kick-off for an 88-yard touchdown sprint. Gatti made the point after touchdown, setting the score at 35 to 6.

The Pirates tallied four more times before the finish of the game, to wind up the final 60 to 6 score. Tonight, Friday, October 6, the Trojans tangle with Belvidere under the lights on their home field.

Barrington rolls over Ela, 39-6

Barrington's title bound Bronchos rolled over Ela 39-6 Saturday afternoon as Barrington played their first game on their new gridiron. Passes from Dan Osinski to Steve Roake featured a one-sided battle. Barrington scored in every quarter. Ela's lone touchdown came when Bob Stockinger, right end, picked up a Broncho fumble and ran 50 yards to score.

Popp scored in the first period on a quick opening play through the line. Ernie Gerlach converted. In the second quarter Roake ran a punt back to the Ela two yard line and Osinski tallied on a quarterback sneak. Gerlach converted. An intercepted pass by Roake was run to the Ela 10 and Bill Harrison came in to plough off right tackle for the touchdown.

IN THE THIRD quarter Heckmiller passed to Roake for 20 yards and first down on the 25 yard line. Osinski then passed to Roake for the touchdown. Gerlach converted. A little later Heckmiller got loose for an 30 yard touchdown run. With the score 33-0 at the start of the last period Ela crossed the goal on Stockinger's 50 yard sprint after picking up a Broncho fumble.

Best play of the game was a pass from Osinski to Roake completed on the Barrington 40 yard line and a 60 yard run after the catch by Roake to score in which he evaded six tacklers.

Ela played without Jerry Centoni, all-league fullback, and Dahm their regular quarterback who were out with injuries. Centoni chipped an ankle bone in the Bensenville game and will be out of action three weeks.

Steve Roake had a field day for Barrington with pass catching and running back puns for long gains. Barrington found the Ela line tougher than they expected but had no trouble when they took to the air. It was Barrington's 18th straight victory.

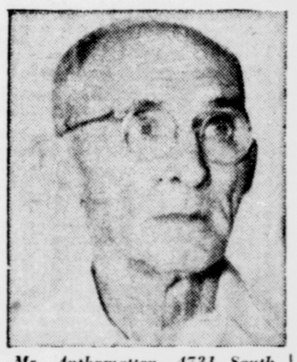
Don't Be Satisfied With Symptomatic Relief!

HADACOL NOW MAKES IT POSSIBLE TO RELIEVE THE CAUSE OF YOUR SICKNESS

Neuritis Pains, Stomach Disturbances, Indigestion, Gas, Constipation, Certain Nervous Disorders and a General Run-down Condition

When due to lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin in your system!

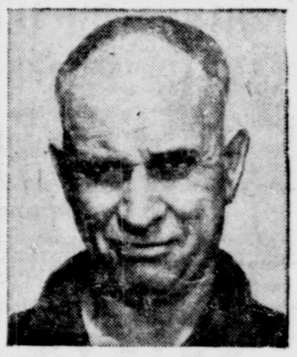
Read How These Folks Benefited Who Had Such Deficiencies



Mr. Anthamatten, 4731 South 32nd West Ave., Tulsa 7, Oklahoma, suffered from stomach distress for quite some time. He had spent much money trying everything possible for relief and was in bad health when he started taking HADACOL. He says, "After taking three bottles of the $3.50 size, I've gained 27 pounds and now eat anything I desire and positively have no trouble." (HADACOL gives such wonderful results because it actually relieves the REAL CAUSE of stomach distress [gas pains, heartburn, indigestion after eating] due to such deficiencies. And continued use of this great HADACOL helps prevent such distress from returning.)

Mrs. Mabel Kitchen, 1650 Amsterdam, Cincinnati, Ohio. "Before I started taking HADACOL I had aches and pains of neuritis in my shoulders, my back and arms. I could hardly move without having those terrible pains. Then I heard about HADACOL. After the second bottle the pains and aches were about gone. I'm now starting my fourth bottle and am on top of the world. I eat well and, best of all, the aches and pains are completely gone." (Mrs. Kitchen is a very smart woman because she relieves the REAL CAUSE of her neuritis pains due to such deficiencies. HADACOL often brings a wonderful improvement within a few days' time.)

Mrs. J. Scieszinski, 514 Kruger, Ottumwa, Iowa, writes: "My daughter, Marilyn Sue, is 5 years old and for some time lacked pep, had a poor appetite, was generally run-down. Since giving her HADACOL, we have noticed wonderful results . . . she has a much better appetite, eats everything on the table and doesn't seem tired like she used to. Incidentally, she likes to take HADACOL, too." (HADACOL is a great 'builder-upper' for sick, nervous, puny kids whose systems lack precious Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin. A big improvement in their well-being is often noticed within a few days' time after taking the great new HADACOL.)



Mr. Henry Angel, RD No. 1, Springfield, Ohio. "I used to suffer great pain from neuritis aches in all parts of my body, especially in my legs, arms and shoulders. I never got any real relief until I tried HADACOL. After taking several bottles, my pain is all gone. And I'm working every day." (Now there's a smart man! Mr. Angel took HADACOL and relieved the REAL CAUSE of his neuritis pains because they were due to such deficiencies. HADACOL is helping thousands upon thousands of grateful men and women troubled this way. Why don't you give HADACOL a chance to help you? Start taking it today!)

IMPORTANT! Why don't you get that wonderful HADACOL feeling everyone is talking about? In this modern age, wise folks are no longer satisfied with symptomatic relief — because now it's possible to relieve the CAUSE of such deficiency sickness with that wonderful new HADACOL.

HADACOL not only supplies deficient systems with extra quantities of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin but also helpful amounts of precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Manganese—vital elements every human being must have to maintain good health. You owe it to yourself to give HADACOL a fair trial. Many doctors recommend this great new HADACOL. It's sold on a strict money-back guarantee. Trial size, $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50.

Gems of thought

FOLLOWING THROUGH

When you get right down to the root of the meaning of the word "succeed," you find that it simply means to follow through.
—F. W. Nichol

The devotion of thought to an honest achievement makes the achievement possible.
—Mary Baker Eddy

Men talk as if victory were something fortunate. Work is victory. Wherever work is done, victory is obtained. —Emerson

There is no road to success but through a clear, strong purpose. A purpose underlies character, culture, position, attainment of whatever sort.
—T. T. Munger

If a man does not know to what port he is steering, no wind is favorable to him.
—Seneca

It is the old lesson — a worthy purpose, patient energy for its accomplishment, a resoluteness undaunted by difficulties, and then success. —Punshon

Throw another log on the fire to curb Dutch Elm ill

Thousands of Americans may be harboring one of treedom's deadliest enemies, the elm bark beetle, carrier of the Dutch elm disease.

This warning is sounded by H. J. Rice, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co., who urges every home owner to be careful not to store elm logs or wood, because, if he lives in the Dutch elm belt, the logs may harbor the elm bark beetle. Check your dealer to be sure he is not selling you elm logs.

Elm is not a particularly good fireplace wood, and worse, it may shelter overwintering bark beetles. Better fire woods are oak, hickory, beech, birch, ash and maple.

IN MEMORIAM

Albert Kiehne. In cherished and everlasting remembrance of our dearest Albert on his birthday, Oct. 8.

We can't say, "Happy Birthday," Albert, because you've gone away; but God will love and keep you, 'til we meet a gain someday.

In our hearts your memory lingers, sweetly, tender, fond and true;

There is not a day, dear Albert, that we do not think of you.

Loving Mother, Dad, and Sister.

William Hoffmeyer

Funeral services for William Hoffmeyer, late of 842 Lee st., Des Plaines, were held at Oehler's funeral home September 26. Rev. Wobbe officiated. Interment Memorial Garden cemetery.

Mr. Hoffmeyer was born August 20, 1883, at Long Grove. He had lived the past few years with his sister in Des Plaines. Mr. Hoffmeyer was a road grader for the Cook County Highway department. He died September 23 at the Elgin hospital.

Survivors include two daughters, Mabel Hoffmeyer and Elizabeth Rassmussen; three grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Emma Goetz and Caroline Stocke, and three brothers, Ernest, Henry and George.

Burr H. Kress

A Masonic service will be held Friday at 2 p. m. for Burr H. Kress, late of 801 Hazel ave., Deerfield, at Oehler's funeral home.

Mr. Kress was born August 14, 1867, in Alma, Mich. He was a retired railroad conductor for the Chicago and North Western railroad. He died at his home October 4.

Survivors include 10 children, Marie Clavey, Loretta Wilman, Ruth Grenslade, Earl, Margaret Hesler, John, Paul, Richard, Gordon and Arthur; 22 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. His wife, Katherine, preceded him in death.

Ida Roeder

Funeral services were held October 4 for Mrs. Ida Roeder, nee Kohlmann, late of the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, Arlington Heights, at the Lutheran Home. Rev. J. M. Kempf officiated. Interment Concordia cmetery, Forest Park. Arrangements were in charge of Black's Memorial Home.

Mrs. Roeder was born December 1, 1864, in Dortmund, Westphalen, Germany. She came to the United States in 1909.

Following an illness of over a year, she died at the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged October 2 at the age of 85. Mrs. Roeder had been a resident of the home for the past three years.

Survivors include four stepsons. She was preceded in death by her husband, Theodore, who died in 1943.

Crystal Lake now has parking meters

Newly-installed parking meters were placed in use September 22 in Crystal Lake. Those who fail to deposit the necessary coins or park overtime will receive tickets which must be paid at the city hall where there will be a meter for this purpose.

About 325 meters have been installed in the city with hours to be from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. on week days with the exception of Fridays when the hours will be from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. because of stores being open evenings.

Weekly recipe

You have had potato pancakes and potato bread, of course, but have you ever tasted potato rolls? They are fluffy and light, and I know you'll find them easy to make. If you are having a dinner party, your potato rolls can be the tasties treat of the meal.

Potato Rolls

2 eggs
1 cup milk
1 tbsp. sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 cup mashed potatoes
7 cups all purpose flour
1 tbsp. butter
1 cake compressed yeast
½ cup warm water

Method: Mix hot potatoes, butter, eggs, salt, sugar and 1 cup of flour. Scald milk and add to potato mixture. Dissolve yeast in water. When sponge is cool enough, add yeast to it and let all rise for two hours then work in the remaining 6 cups of flour and let rise for two hours longer. Make into rolls and let rise for 1 hour. Bake at 350 degrees for from 20 to 30 minutes, deending upon size of rolls.

State shows big gain in use of gas

A record increase in the use of gas as a fuel by home owners in Illinois was disclosed in a survey of the nation's utility companies released today.

While government census figures this year indicate a population increase for Illinois of 10.1 per cent over 1940, W. Paul Jones, president of Servel, Inc., the nation's leading gas appliance and equipment manufacturer, pointed out that during the same period the number of gas users in the state rose from 1,314,900 in '40 to 1,636,200 in '50, or an increase of 24.4 per cent. The nation as a whole showed a 57.1 per cent increase in the number of gas customers, he said.

He noted that central gas heating installations in the nation had increased 163 per cent in the last ten years, rising from 1,187,000 in 1940 to 3,119,000 today. Ten years ago, he said, gas was used in only 30 per cent of the nation's automatic home furnaces, while oil accounted for a fraction under 54 per cent and stokers for 16 per cent.

Today, Jones added, gas installations account for 35.5 per cent of the total—an increase of 5.5 per cent—while oil has dropped to 50.5 per cent and stokers to 14 per cent.

This house and garage are integrated with each other as fully as possible. Forward-sloping windows at the garage end add unusual visual interest. The asphalt shingle roof, in a blended color, is carried from one section of the building to the other without a break.

Doors made to meet variety of problems

Garage doors are made to "meet an infinite variety of problems and tastes, and there should be no valid reason why any modern garage door should not operate as easily as the front door of the home and look just as attractive," says American Builder magazine.

The publication adds, "The garage door is one of the largest and most conspicuous features of the home. Designers therefore give the garage door much thought and consideration."

American Builder says the six major types of garage doors are the roll-up or sectional door, the swing-up or panel type, the sliding door, the hinged door, the accordion door, and the two-section, upward-folding door.

Nic... ...as

Since 1881, in which year Switzerland had the distinction of issuing the first coin to be made of pure nickel, 42 countries have used pure nickel for 124 different coins.

Appearance aided by uniform design

Design and construction of a garage should receive as much attention as design and construction of a house. Harmonious overall design will increase the attractiveness of both buildings.

Architects consider uniformity of appearance important for buildings in a group. Because the roof color dominates color design, the same solid or blended color asphalt shingles should be used on both the garage and the house.

When a garage is attached, lighter framing and a less substantial foundation sometimes can be used. In most cases, these are the only exceptions to the rule that house construction and design should be used in garage building.

Automotive trades take big part in state business

The motor vehicle is playing an important role in Illinois' growing retail, wholesale and service trades, according to the latest U. S. Census of Business.

Nearly 13 per cent of the business establishments in the state covered by the census were automotive. These firms accounted for 8.8 per cent of all 1948 sales and receipts. They provided 9.5 per cent of the total employment reported by Illinois retail, wholesale and service businesses, the Bureau of the Census figures indicate.

Preliminary reports reveal that retail sales in the state aggregated $8,779,000,000 — an increase of 207 per cent over 1939. Wholesale volume showed a 260 per cent rise for the same nine-year period. Service trades reported receipts totaling $745,300,000, compared with only $263,500,000 in 1939.

A big employment increase for Illinois also was reported. Retail establishments employed 483,841 persons full or part time, compared with 353,486 in 1939. Wholesale businesses were credited with 130,055 employees by the new census, but only 125,848 in 1939. The figure for service trades was 100,036, an increase of nearly 33,000.

FOR THE CENSUS year, the report lists 4,636 retail automotive establishments in Illinois. This figure includes motor vehicle dealers and merchandisers of automotive parts and accessories. These enterprises took in $1,254,347,000 during the year and employed about 34,318 Illinois men and women.

A total of 9,150 gasoline service stations were counted, whose sales and receipts amounted to $392,058,000. Employees numbered 15,546.

RECORD FOR TILE

Clay tile for bathrooms and kitchens is now being produced at an annual volume of 139,700,000 square feet, highest production rate in the history of the industry, the Tile Council of America reported.

Child study group of Barrington in first meeting October 12

Child Study Group of Barrington will hold its opening meeting for the 1950-51 season Thursday evening, October 12, at 8:00 p. m. at the Barrington Elementary school building, in room 312. Miss Ethel Macintyre, director of the Nichols Nursery school in Evanston, will speak on "Why Habit Training is Important." The public is invited to attend.

The Child Study Group was founded five years ago by a small group of mothers of preschool children who felt the need for expert advice in child development. Each year there are eight lectures, each one followed by discussion and a short refreshment period. One of the most valuable aspects of the group is the opportunity for mothers to meet and discuss their young children with each other.

Miss Macintyre, the October speaker, is a graduate of Northwestern University, where she holds a master's degree. She has taught many places in and around Chicago. In 1946 she went to Austria to teach in the U. S. Army Dependents school. Since then she has taught in the Northwestern Evanston Nursery school, and taken more graduate work at Northwestern, and has done supervisory work with Dr. Viola Theman, author and teacher in the field of child development. This year she is directing and teaching full time at the Nichols Nursery school under the sponsorship of Northwestern University and the Evanston Public schools.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Raymond McGee, chairman, Mrs. Richard Watson, Mrs. William Stout, Mrs. Albert Edmonds, and Mrs. Jack Michaels, all of Barrington.

It takes a GAS Range to give you BAKING like this!

RECIPE

Late Winter Apple Pie

1 recipe rich pastry
3½ cups coarsely chopped apples
½ cup strained canned cranberry sauce
1 teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon salt
½-¾ cup sugar
2 teaspoons minute tapioca
1 cup raisins
1 tablespoon butter
Whipped cream or vanilla ice cream

Line 10-inch pie pan with pastry. Chill. Mix apples, cranberry sauce, nutmeg, salt and sugar. Sprinkle 1 teaspoon tapioca on bottom of pastry. Place ½ of apple mixture in pie pan. Sprinkle with remaining tapioca. Cover with remaining apple mixture. Sprinkle with raisins. Dot with butter. Cover with pastry. Seal edges firmly. Make several gashes in top. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (350° F.) and bake 35 or 40 minutes longer or until golden brown. Serve with whipped cream or ice cream.

You'll be sure of good results when you bake this pie in your GAS range. We'll bet the men in the family will ask you to save this recipe . . . and use it often. If you're looking for good new recipes or meal suggestions, call the Home Service Department of the Public Service Company.

Their Alma Mater

When a group of former students at Palatine high school learned that their former teacher Miss Mason (Mrs. Irving Beutler) was to be in Chicago an impromptu reunion was planned, which included a luncheon at the Milk Pail and a social afternoon at the Fox River home of the Paddocks.

At the left is their Alma Mater. Below, reading right to left are the girls, themselves as they were known when they were pupils at Palatine high school: Grace VanHorne, Margaret Young, Cora Schultz, Bertha Torgler, Marion Taylor, Lucile Paddock, Zelda Daniels, Miss Mason (the teacher), Daisy Paddock.

The wooden school building was replaced by the brick structure on the same site in 1912.

Last chance to register before election

Next Tuesday, October 10, the polling place in each precinct will be open from 8:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m. to give everyone who has not yet done so a chance to register. This will be the last opportunity for you to become eligible to vote November 7. Don't miss it!

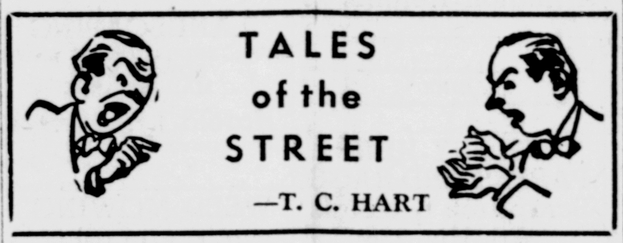
In 1919—71% of the registered voters voted.
In 1944—56% of the registered voters voted.
In 1949—51% of the registered voters voted.
In 1950— ?

Power in a democracy springs from the people. It's up to you to make freedom ring in these United States, knowing that if it rings clear and true it will be heard around the world. Your VOTE is your VOICE—SPEAK UP! Every good citizen will vote November 1.

But remember—first, you must be registered. Remember October 10th.



THE LAST ROUND UP

It's fall, officially, and in all other ways the feel of fall is in the air, the leaves are falling, corn is ripening, the fields are filled with fall flowers and the birds are starting their last grand round-up preparatory to the migration to sunnier and warmer climes.

And that bird round-up has taken on important proportions during the past week or ten days.

One day we saw a couple of hundred robins clustering on the telephone wires out in the country acting as if they were having a convention and electing officers for the flight south.

And every day in the back yard the birds are thick around the bird bath acting as if they didn't expect to have the opportunity for another plunge for a long time to come. There are robins, blackbirds, sparrows, bluejays, flickers, thrushes, cat birds—almost every variety of bird that summers in this area—busy around the bird bath as if sprucing up for their southern trip.

The blackbirds have been flocking for weeks and many of them are already on their way and the other birds are bunching up as if getting travel parties ready for the trip south.

The birds are strangely silent as they gather and make their plans for the fall get away. Gone is the loud cheerful singing of the springtime when they herald their return to this clime in noisy song.

About the only noisy bird now is the bluejay who is always a racuous fellow in the fall, maybe making fun of his less hardy mates who head south for the winter, seeming to enjoy the fact that he is one of the few species of bird life that does stay in this area during the winter—and he likes to make a big noise about it.

Yes, the big last round-up of the birds is on and it won't be long until most of them have silently departed for the sunny south and we won't see them again until some balmy, damp, spring morning next spring when out of the haze will come the cheery greeting of our friends again announcing that once more they have returned from their wanderings and are with us again for another season.

But right now they are busy with the serious business of organizing the last big round-up of the summer, preparatory to the take off for a friendlier and less rugged climate, far from our ice and snow.

GREAT SHOW

We believe we told our readers that the big flower show and garden exhibition of the combined Palanois Park, Inverness and South Plum Grove Garden clubs was going to be the greatest show ever in its line that had been held in Palatine, as well it was. The show is now long gone, but folks are still talking about it and about what a great show it was.

The holding of the show for two days made a big hit and added greatly to the interest and the attendance.

There were some fine specimens of flowers and vegetables on display, some wonderful specimens considering growing conditions during the summer and the interest extended to all classes of exhibitors from the youngsters to the older folks.

One section for novices who had never won a ribbon in an exhibition or who had never exhibited before was one of the best sections of the show. It was so good in fact that the judges asked permission to junk the rules of the show and make more awards than the program provided for—the exhibits were that good.

With the fine cooperation and team work shown this year by the sponsoring clubs and with their first combined show such an outstanding success, even greater things can be expected next year. Of course, it's a long way to next year's garden, this year's is just being cleaned up and put to bed for the winter. But a gardener is pretty much like a baseball fan, his enthusiasm never dies out and when one season is over there is always the "hot stove league" of the winter to discuss plans for the next season, and an enthusiastic gardener is just as much of a "hot stove leaguer" as is the ball fan. So although this year's garden season may be over, there is another one coming next year and next year we look to see those combined Garden clubs outdo their fine efforts of this year and put on even a bigger and better show than the one of last month.

CUTTING THE TAPE

There is an old saying that, "It isn't who you are or what you've got that counts, but who you know."

Well that old saying sure holds good when it comes to getting things done for a community along the line of public improvements. Palatine has had several illustrations of that "who you know business" in cutting through some of the red tape of getting things done.

Several years ago the Smith street sewer caved in, the village was broke and had no money to repair the sewer. Repeated efforts to get the state to permit the use of gas tax funds for the repair of that sewer met with complete failure. Finally some one said, "If you fellows had anyone that knew Mr. X, you'd be able to get someplace as he's close to the state powers that be."

"Know Mr. X," said one of the boys, "why one of our fellows was his local campaign manager a couple of years ago."

"There's your contact," said the first speaker—"get busy."

Well some of the boys called upon Mr. X. Sure, he'd be glad to help. He picked up the phone right then and there and got busy. It didn't take long.

The Smith street sewer repair was approved as a gas tax fund project, Smith street being an arterial street. Where repeated failures had been met with, success was had when the right people got through some of the red tape.

Then there were those stop lights at Chicago ave. and the Northwest highway. Public officials, citizen committees, the Motor club, everyone had failed to get those stop lights. The traffic count was far below the minimum requirements for stop lights at that corner, said the highway department—and there you were.

Then someone who knew someone got busy—red tape went by the boards like a knife through butter. Certain orders were issued and all of a sudden the stop lights were there.

Then more recently it was that station drive paving project. After all the delay and stalling it looked as if another winter would roll by before everything could be cleared and approved by the powers that be.

Then up popped somebody that knew somebody where it might do some good. Once more some telephoning to the state capitol, a few kind words in the right place by the right people and presto—once more the red tape was cut and that long delayed job is really under way.

Yes, Palatine has indeed been fortunate in having some fellows around who "knew somebody" in the right places.

No one ever got as much as a thin dime out of any of these favors. It was simply a case of having the right friend in the right place to put in a good word here and there and Palatine has been fortunate in having a few fellows around who have happened to know the right people and who have been ever ready to come forward for the benefit of the community. No one has ever tried to grab any glory for any political party or for any individual for any of these special favors. The ones who did them are unsung and unthanked for the most part, but they and their contacts are content with the fact that they contributed something to community progress and did a favor for a friend.

Yes, results speak for themselves and it does pay to know people.

THE CORN CROP

The 1950 corn crop is a much discussed subject these days. Some of the farmers, among them the super optimist Bill Bauman, say the crop is wonderful, never better, and that it's going to be a record yield.

Yes, we've seen a lot of fields that looked as if they would make good on all those boasts, and then again we've seen a lot of other fields where it didn't look so hot and where the pickings were going to be pretty slim.

One thing is certain—there sure has been some good corn weather the last couple of weeks and the longer the tough weather holds off, the better the crop is going to be, but just how good it really is as compared to other years won't be known until the harvest, which in some fields will be starting this week.

Bill Bauman says he's going to be cutting this week now that the corn is ripe, ready and the greatest crop ever—Pioneer corn of course. You know Bill sells Pioneer seed.

FALL GARDENS

Folks who flaunted fall gardens aren't having a lot of luck this year. The rains came so late that seed that should have been well up in August just started way along in September.

It does look like a crop of green beans may make the grade and we may get a crop before frost even though it did take them weeks to come up and since those nice September rains came late, lettuce is showing signs of making some growth so there may be a mess or two of lettuce if it doesn't freeze before Thanksgiving.

One compensation for the late start of the fall gardens is that the early green bean plants made everbearers of themselves this year and have been producing nice tender snap beans all summer and even the summer squash has suddenly taken a notion to bloom again as if they were trying to follow the beans and make everbearers out of themselves.

KATYDIDS

People have been asking George Butler when they could expect a killing frost. George being the katydid expert who forecasts the first killing frost for 90 days after he hears the first katydid.

But this year George is stumped. He hasn't heard any katydids all summer. There haven't been any north of the railroad tracks.

We hadn't heard any either, but several weeks ago we started a katydid investigation. We asked Mrs. Acree who lives down in "katydid hollow" on the south side, if she had heard any. She had but the first one didn't chirp until about the middle of August and according to the late Jerry Acree, who was another katydid expert, this meant a frost in about six weeks or somewhere around the first of October.

But according to George Butler's dope, a killing frost in 90 days would put the first real killer way along about November 15.

Well, if that one is right, there is still lots of time for the corn and some of those katydids are still here—you can hear them on the south side. Why they hang out down there but seldom come north of the tracks is always a mystery.

Calves for Replacement

Raising calves for replacement purposes is practical and economical; they should be separately housed in dry and clean pens, fed good rations, and kept free of parasites.

Dear Jane:

My friend, Lady B. called to ask if I would be interested in repeating the table setting I assembled for the antique and hobby show here in Harvard last Fall.

I am interested, and would enjoy doing "Grandmother's Thanksgiving," but, unfortunately, I broke the cup to the place setting last week when I was washing it.

The show isn't to take place until the 13th of this month, so I have a little time in which to search for a lustre tea leaf cup. The saucer is intact. If you know where I can obtain the loan or purchase of one, I'd very much appreciate your calling or writing me.

Went across the yard to the little studio this morning to see how the African violet slips are coming along. Gracious, it takes a long time for these leaves to end down roots and start a new plant! I've had four small pots setting in water with a single leaf in soil in each one for weeks and weeks, and I can't see where they have done a thing. I decided to bring the pots over to the north window sill in my bedroom. Perhaps they need a change of environment.

The mother plant is full of large purple blooms. It hasn't stopped blooming for two years. I think that's amazing, don't you? I believe I've had more enoyment from this house plant than all the others put together, that is, all but the geraniums, which are great favorites of mine.

I've been gradually taking up these plants from the window boxes and flower beds, and potting them for the indoors at the first sign of frost. Where I'm going to find room for fifty or more geranium plants is more than I can imagine at the moment. The south window in the living room, where they do the best, isn't large enough, and I can't bear to put them in the basement for they don't get enough sunshine through the winter months, and won't bloom without it. Guess the man of the house will have to figure out a way to provide a conservatory.

I was gifted with two bulbs from the "Bulb of the Month Club." What will they think of next? Anyway, the friend who sent the bulbs was quite enthusiastic about the idea. The ones she sent to me turned out to be purple crocus'. The instructions said to place them in a container without soil or water, and they would draw their nourishment from the air. The did, too, much to my surprise. The sprouts were well out of the brown balls when they arrived in the mail, and in less than a week's time I saw flowers. A trifle on the weak side, I'm afraid, but flowers nevertheless.

The instructions also said that they could be planted in soil too, but I wanted to see if they would really grown on oxygen alone. When they are through blooming I can put them outdoors in the flower bed and next year I can expect to have a sturdy little clump to add to those crocus' already there.

Speaking of unusual things, have you seen these white candles that when lighted drip wax of rainbow hues? Was given a present of three the other day, and nothing would do but that I light them in broad daylight so the boys could see what happened. The first drip slid down the pure white candle in a deep lavendar shade, followed by pink, deep orange and red wax. As the first candle burns down, a second one is added and then a third until quite a pyramid is built. Well, some people might call the effect attractive, but I'll take a single colored candle every time, preferably ivory or white for daily use, and dark green or red at Christmas time.

Just took time out to look at the young beef cattle grazing in the south pasture. We named one of them "Pokey," because it has to wear a cowpoke around its neck. It was a naughty calf and broke through the fence on two occasions, so until it is brought into the barn this winter for "graining," it must wear this badge of disgrace for all to see. Poor thing, I just know it's frustrated. Imagine it dangling that wooden thing around all day and night, and even when it's eating and sleeping!

Must close now, and get ready to see Number three son try to help his team win the football game this afternoon. He's substitute quarterback on the JV team, but he thinks he may "start" in this game, and, of course, that "would be something!" he tells me. Ah, me! Are there really some mothers who like to have their sons play football? I never am able to take a full breath until after football season is over!

With love, Mary.

Ordinary household goods not assessed

This is one of a series of articles about the assessment of real estate and personal property in Cook County. Your home and property are important to the Assessor and he is important to you. These articles will tell what makes a good assessor, what his problems are, his duties and functions, and how he serves you. Information herein was provided by Assessor John S. Clark.

Personal property, Assessor John S. Clark says, is all property other than land and buildings. In other words, your automobile or office equipment is assessed as personal property. But your house and lot is real estate.

"After being elected in 1934, one of the first problems was to improve personal property assessments," Clark relates. "I wanted to help home owners by giving them a fair evaluation of household goods, and I wanted assessments of cash, stocks and bonds on a sound basis."

Clark formed a committee of civic and financial leaders and two members of his staff to make a comprehensive survey of intangible property — cash, stocks and bonds. Previously these intangibles had been assessed at 20 per cent of their value.

But with the depression, values of many stocks and bonds dropped drastically, and earnings became little or nothing. At the same time many persons lost cash deposits when banks failed.

The committee soon discovered that assessment at 20 per cent was driving stocks and bonds into hiding. Owners were reluctant to declare intangibles because the tax was impairing their capital.

"In finding a solution to this problem, we strove for an assessment that would be fair, uniformly just and accepted by the public," Clark declares. "We wanted new assessment procedures which would consider the present earning powers of stocks and bonds."

After a detailed study, the committee suggested that intangibles be assessed at 10 per cent of their present fair cash values, or two times their earnings, whichever was lower.

"We adopted the committee's findings, and our staff and the local township assessors began a new era in personal property assessments," Clark relates.

"The public response was gratifying," he tells. "Our methods were called a progressive step in assessment administration."

Civic and financial groups approved the new methods as fair, and said they allowed Chicago and Cook County to compete with other metropolitan centers in attracting new commercial businesses.

The example is cited of a large trust company which had left Chicago when the former methods of assessments of intangibles existed.

This company, with a capital of millions, returned here under the new assessment at 10 per cent, knowing that the tax on its holdings would not be unreasonable or confiscatory.

This new procedure of evaluating intangibles was also considered an achievement in municipal government because Illinois' state laws were laid down in the horse and buggy days of 1818, and tend to resist modern methods.

Deciding next to clean up assessment of ordinary household furnishings, Clark in 1936 ordered a study of all household assessments.

"We discovered there were 600,000 assessments made yearly of ordinary furnishings which had no definite value except to the owner who used them year after year," Clark states.

"And although these 600,000 assessments were taxed every year, only 6½ per cent of the tax was being paid. The rest was dumped in the State's Attorney's office for suit.

"We learned that it would take 10 times the number of County judges and assistant State's Attorneys to prosecute these suits."

To save the taxpayer's money, and to lessen the burden on the average home owner, Clark abolished assessment of ordinary household furnishings in 1936.

Today, with the elimination of 600,000 household assessments, tax delinquency was dropped some 35 per cent and tax collections have increased $10,000,000 on personal property.

"Today our field men and township assessors continually contact merchants and business men so that our methods are well understood and basically sound appraisals are made," Clark states.

"Our county, with its great industrial development, its large financial companies, its merchants and home owners, demands that the assessment and the procedures in determining property values must be understood and accepted at all levels."

(Article No. 5 will describe how real estate is assessed in Cook County.)

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc.,

THE HIDDEN CLIFF

A young family rush to the hospital and with great expectation and many hours of pain they are informed—"It's a boy." During the anxious years to come they watch over their charge and when they feel they have done a good job of rearing the object of their affection to a point where he can and does stand on his own, Uncle Sam calls him. He does his duty and those fortunate enough to come home do so and settle down to life with regularity.

Things go on in a normal way. One night a few boys get together and decide to take a ride in their car. It's a nice evening. They round the corner of Colfax near Smith Street. A screeching car approaches—not aware of the dangerous curve near the corner, the boys try to get out of the way but run off the road and turn over into the ditch. The routine curve sign gives no warning of the "hidden cliff" just off the soft shoulder of the narrow highway. You hear the awful screeching of brakes and the cries from the boys and when the truth is known maybe one boy out of the crowd may have a slight chance to live—the others are dead. A murderer is brought to justice. To my mind this is nothing short of murder when adequate warnings are not put up to tell the oncoming motorists of this "hidden cliff" and dangerous curve.

I have lived near this curve for nine years. I have seen many accidents just like this one above. The curve has been brought to the attention of the Village Board many times. Are we going to let the residents of Palatine down just for the sake of the red-tape involved in having proper warning signs erected where they can be seen at night as well as day?

I hope those reading my article will realize the seriousness of it and if they know with whom this can be discussed and action brought about, would you please inform me. If you have been an eye-witness to some of these terrible murders, I am sure you would be just as interested as I am to see justice done.

Mrs. Fred W. Lemke,
243 North Smith St.
Palatine

LACK OF INTEREST

What is there about the town of Palatine? We have a new park with lights, and what happens, they have had two seasons of town softball and football there without any crowds, but the minute the high school plays there, the stands are packed.

Does the town lose interest in their high school players as soon as they get out of school? There has been some very good softball and very interesting football played over there as witness the 0-0 tie between the Palatine Eagles and Franklin Park, last Sunday night.

How about it folks, let's show these kids we haven't lost interest in them, and start showing up at some of their games over at Palatine Community Park.

CREDIT IS DUE

As things said or written about police are usually criticism, deserved or not, it is a pleasure to write a truth that is complimentary.

The killing of Mike Buny in a holdup at his Rand Road tavern went without a clue for 16 months.

At our last carnival, some young fellows acting boisterously, aroused the suspicion of two of our Palatine officers. The boys were doing no more than other customers, the suspicion was just policemen's intuition.

A search of their car revealed a gun; questioning brought confessions; many robberies were solved. One suspect involved another, eventually enabling authorities to uncover what appears to be a solution of the murder.

It has been headline news in large Chicago papers, but so far, none of them mentioned our Palatine police, whose vigilance supplied the first clue, it is here brought to local attention. Good work boys.

Richard Sanford,
Palatine.

THANK YOU

The dedication of our enlarged church building was rendered very significant because of the generous and thoughtful acts of our friends.

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for the fine publicity you accorded our building project and the dedication events through the columns of the Mount Prospect Herald.

State license colors maroon on aluminum

For the addicts of complete color harmony, the season has arrived to repaint the family "bus."

Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett today announced that the 1951 vehicle license plates will be maroon letters on an aluminum background.

TAX FACTS

By George Mahin, Executive Secretary, Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

The program of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois to dramatize the tremendous burdens being piled on the young people of America by excessive debt, mounting taxes, and cheapening of the American dollar recently was lauded in Congress by U. S. Representative Edward H. Jenison of the 18th Illinois District.

Congressman Jenison cited Federation statistics to show that each American baby born this year inherits as his share of the national debt an indebtedness of $2,670.68. With at least 25 cents out of every dollar now going for taxes, each child's future is burdened with a veritable mortgage.

The Illinois Congressman reminded his colleagues in the House of Representatives that Communist leaders "have predicted that the United States will eventually spend itself into collapse."

"Communists are aware of the dangers faced by America due to deficit financing, over-spending, and excessive taxation," Congressman Jenison said. "But, what of the American people? Do they realize it? And, if so, what's to be done?

"The average American seems oblivious of the fact that a dirty trick is being played on the children of the United States—every one of them—because it is the young people who must assume eventually the obligation of unpaid debt now accumulating because of the tax-and-spend ways who constantly have their hands out for more and more public funds for various pet projects and schemes at home and abroad."

How many parents, editors, educators, and ministers, law makers and other public officials realize what is being done to our children?

Our babies will pay for the reckless spending and waste in government by adults today. We should all be ashamed for what we grownups are doing to them.

Every grownup has an obligation to every American baby to vote at every election — and to vote for those candidates who, regardless of party, promise to protect our children's future against more debt, more taxes, more bureaucracy, less freedom, less opportunity. This will insure that our children's dollars, and our own pension dollars, will buy at least as much or more tomorrow than they will today.

In the future

Housewives who hate to iron ruffles, lace, and similar frilly items won't find them such a chore with a new stationary ironing device. Instead of moving the iron over the fabric, you move the fabric across the iron . . . Clean sweep—that's what you'll get with a novel vacuum cleaner rug nozzle. Attached to the vacuum, it acts as a revolving suction brush. Detach it and it becomes a carpet sweeper . . . Another convenient vacuum innovation is a lightweight (five pounds) hand-type cleaner which even a child can manipulate without difficulty . . . "Handy" is also the word for a third home cleaning aid: a hand-sized washboard, for laundering fabrics too delicate to toss in the washing machine with other clothes. The "board" (it's plastic) attaches to the hand by means of an elastic band . . . New globular filler caps now simplify automobile battery servicing. The globes show at a glance whether water is needed, also warn if too much is being used.

"Carpetbaggers"

The carpetbag, used by William F. Harnden who originated the express business on March 4, 1839, came with the stage coach days. Carpetbags lost their wide popularity due to the odium connected with the "carpetbaggers" of the post civil war south.

Lutheran Hour opens eighteenth season with new speaker

Sunday, October 1, marked the inauguration of the eighteenth season of Lutheran Hour broadcasting, dedicated to the glory of God and the proclamation of the Savior's Gospel.

The eighteenth Lutheran Hour season will feature messages by the Rev. Dr. Lawrence Acker, who has consented to serve as interim Lutheran Hour speaker until such a time as a permanent speaker has been selected. Dr. Acker is currently on leave of absence from his congregation, First Lutheran Church of Omaha, Nebraska.

As the Lutheran Hour marches forward into its eighteenth season, it broadcasts in thirty-six languages over stations located in the United States, Canada and forty-nine other territories and foreign countries.

Doctor Acker was born on May 22, 1892 at Seymour, Ind., the son of William Acker and his wife, Elanore Reisner. He graduated from Concordia Theological Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., in 1916, and was ordained at Immanuel Lutheran Church in Seymour, Ind., on July 16, 1916. He was installed at Moberly, Mo., on September 10, 1916, where he served as pastor of Zion Lutheran Church for two years. In 1918 he served with the Lutheran Army and Navy Board. On March 2, 1919, he was installed as Pastor of First Lutheran Church in Omaha, where he has now served for thirty-one years.

Doctor Acker was married in Louisville, Ky., on August 3, 1918 to Miss Vera Fennel. Doctor and Mrs. Acker have three children, Herbert, Ruth and Betty.

Burglars take $5200 cash, liquor, cigs, TV

Daring burglars, operating early Wednesday morning of last week under the cloak of darkness, smashed a plate window, entered and walked off with over $5,200 in cash, liquor, tobacco and a television set from a West Side tavern in Des Plaines.

Setzer's tavern, Prairie ave., near First ave., had just moved into the newly constructed Senne building across the street from its old location. It was reported there was no insurance coverage.

Grow Chicks Outdoors

Move the chicks outdoors early. This will relieve the hazard of crowding the house floor and help to harden-off chicks. You will have to train the chicks to go in and out of the house.

St. Paul Country Fair set for Oct. 13-15

Reports from the committee chairmen on plans for Country Fair sponsored by the St. Paul Lutheran church, Olive and Canfield avenues, Chicago, Oct. 13, 14 and 15, are gratifying.

Interesting articles are being offered for exhibit in fancy goods, collections and hobby work booth.

Many folks are planning displays of choice flowers.

There is still some Commercial Exhibit space available at an unusual floor space arrangement. Commercial Exhibitors interested can phone W. Sass, Ta. 3-7895 or H. Lange, Gl. 3-1395 for display information.

Wilson School Community News

The PTA breakfast held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Robert Huebner was a huge success. About 35 ladies attended, and prizes were taken home by Mrs. Burr, Mrs. Gamble, Mrs. Amann and Mrs. Simmons.

The PTA wishes to remind all members that dues for this year are payable at the next meeting, October 13.

A bazaar is being planned by the PTA, to be held in the school December 5. Ladies are meeting weekly to sew on items for the sewing booth, and Mrs. Alex Schanmier volunteered her home this week Thursday for this purpose. Gifts will be on display and for sale at PTA meetings prior to the bazaar.

Thanks to Mr. Wemlinger for donating lockers for the use of students who share desks in the school. The lockers have compartments for the books, and the children can store their school supplies, so that the desks are available for the other shift.

Twenty-one members of the Clever Clover 4-H club, and four adult leaders attended the WLS barn dance at the Eighth Street Theatre last week. Many of the girls had never attended this theatre before, and all thoroughly enjoyed the outing.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Boeckh who are parents of a baby girl, born September 27. Mrs. Boeckh is the former Jean Gieske of this neighborhood.

AVOID DANGER FROM WINTER KILL

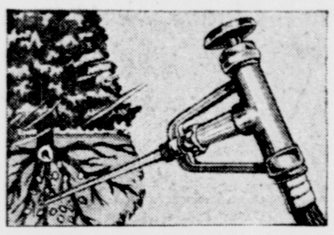
. . . And until the ground freezes!!!



Every year thousands of valuable trees and shrubs die because they go into the winter without enough life-giving moisture.

Protect your evergreens, shrubs, etc. this scientific, professional way! Avoid costly replacements! Just attach the all-metal Ross Root Feeder to garden hose. Let it automatically feed water and liquid food to any depth.

Careful shrub selection will save money

Home gardeners on the lookout for ways to save money in landscaping can economize most by selecting the proper plants, says R. C. Knupper who is a member of the Ornamental Growers Association of Northern Illinois.

The association estimates that at least 20 per cent of all trees, shrubs and evergreens sold in the Chicago area are used to replace poor first choices. Since buyers in this area plant millions of dollars worth of ornamentals a year, the opportunity for such savings is tremendous.

Local nurserymen say the two main reasons for this unnecessary waste are:

1. Planting ornamentals which are not adaptable to local soil and climate. Unless plants have the inherent ability to withstand local climate and soil conditions, they are doomed to failure from the start. Even in the same general area, these conditions vary greatly. A particular tree which thrives in the suburbs may not be suitable for city planting where it would be affected by smoke, dust and chemical fumes.

2. Planting ornamentals which are, or soon will be, out of harmony with their surroundings. Large, fast growing varieties, for example, can easily dwarf a low, modern ranch home and produce an overgrown appearance. Others simply may not suit the owner's taste in the location where planted. One home gardener lined his curved front walk with three different kinds of shrubs in three years before he was satisfied.

In each case, these and other common planting mistakes can easily be avoided by talking over planting problems with a reliable landscape contractor or local nurserymen, the association points out. Other than personal experience, there is no substitute for the experts' familiarity with local planting conditions, the association says. However, the time to seek this advice is before, not after, planting.

Presenting the Younger Generation

Early riser

First in today's representation of the younger set is Richard "Dickie" Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Johnson, 115 N. Prospect Manor, Mt. Prospect.

Dickie is two and one-half years old, has blond hair and blue eyes.

"He's an early riser," stated Mrs. Johnson, "and his first request is to go out to ride his bicycle." With his young pal, Billy, he also spends many hours playing in his sand box.

Now that Dickie's six-month-old sister, Marilyn, is getting to the age where he can "talk" and play with her, he is enjoying her arrival in the family.

Grandparents of this youngster are Mr. and Mrs. Axel Johnson of Oak Park and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nyhuse of Elmwood Park.

Rickey

This smiling young miss is as vivacious and peppy as her picture indicates. She is Barbara Reed, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Reed, 743 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights.

"She has always been called 'Rickey'," said her aunt, Miss True Schroeder, "and very few people would recognize the name Barbara."

Rickey has reddish-brown hair, blue eyes and is quite a talker, commented Miss Schroeder. She loves music and can repeat almost any tune that she hears. She is planning to continue her dancing lesons, ballet being her favorite.

There are three other children in the Reed family. Mary Lou is a student at the University of Minnesota, and Nancy and Richard attend Arlington Heights high school.

Little Cherub

Young Bill Butler is the four and one half month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Butler, 205 Clarendon rd., Prospect Hts. This baby boy is advanced for his age, as he weighed 12 lbs. 4 oz. at birth and already is sporting two teeth. Little Bill was six weeks old when this picture was snapped.

"He's a happy baby and appreciates all of his playthings," said Mrs. Butler. His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Butler of Chicago and his maternal grandmother is Mrs. Mary V. Grennan of Sterling.

Toy Car Collector

Three year old Glenn Anderson has blond hair, blue eyes and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Anderson, 243 N. Benton, Palatine.

"Glenn's main interest is in toy cars of all kinds," said his grandmother, Mrs. Dierker. Wagons and bicycles are important too, but take second place to Glenn's collection of toy cars.

He is an active young man, loves to sing and attends Sunday school at St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed church.

Mrs. Dierker is Glenn's maternal grandmother and resides with the family. Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson of McHenry are paternal grandparents.

Bits o' business

Good news from Korea has some observers predicting a leveling of prices before next spring. Production, too, may stop climbing . . . Credit curbs may put a slight damper on consumer buying for a while, but look for Christmas sales this year to smash all previous records . . . Controls are already hurting the used car business, according to a 12-city check made by the Wall Street Journal. Business is still good, most dealers reported, but sales have slowed substantially. On the other hand, new car demand has only been hurt slightly . . . Production workers' pay envelopes are fatter than they've ever been. The August average: $60.28 a week. Average work week: 41.2 hours.

Three-cornered Moon stars newcomers

When the cast of the Des Plaines Theatre Guild's coming production, October 20 and 21, Three-Cornered Moon, had try outs two newcomers to Des Plaines, Alicia Hasek and Charles Hasek, husband and wife duo, obtained two stellar parts.

Mrs. Hasek's role will be that of Elizabeth, which was played by Ruth Gordon in the original New York Company. Actually there are two feminine leads, the part of Elizabeth and the part of her mother, Mrs. Rimplegar, which is taken by Patricia Dolinski.

Charles Hasek's role is that of Dr. Alan Stevens. He has had considerable experience with the Burt French Players of Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Ia. These included parts in "Two Blind Mice" — "Fourteen" and "If Men Played Cards as Women Do." He was a writer on radio Coe. Mrs. Hasek also appeared at Coe Theatre and has played in "Twelfth Night"—"Embryo"—"The Male Animal" and other plays. She also directed a number of plays at the Coe Theatre and worked on radio Coe. A large cast of other local favorites are included.

Three-Cornered Moon will be produced Friday and Saturday, October 20 and 21, in the new West Room, The Theatre Guild Room, of Rand Park Field House using the new stage and facilities that are available to the Guild.

Tickets are available from members of the Theatre Guild, also at Spieglers Department Store. Single tickets are 75c each. Season tickets at $2.25 offering four plays for the price of three are also now on sale

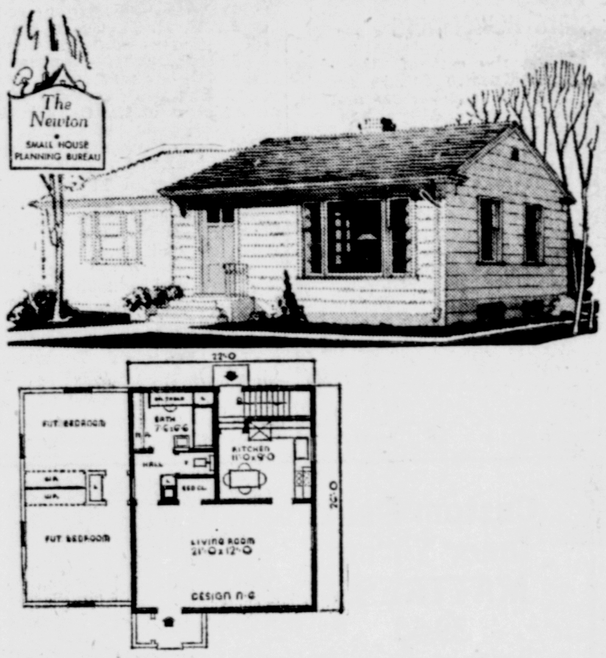
New ideas for that home



THE NEWTON can be built in units. The first unit covers an area of only 22 feet by 26 feet and provides the equivalent of a one room and kitchenette apartment. There is a bed closet in the living room and dining space in the compact kitchen.

The Newton's combination bathroom and dressing room has a large wardrobe, as well as a linen cabinet and a built-in dressing table. This is an excellent arrangement in a small space. The Newton's bedroom unit is set back slightly to break the wall and roof lines when they are added at a later date.

A full basement under the first unit of The Newton would not necessarily have to be extended, since no further plumbing is necessary in any future addition. A vestibule can be added, if desired.

The Newton's plan deserves close study. It is one solution of the problem of building suitable accommodations within a limited budget.

The Newton's first unit has a floor area of 528 square feet. There is a volume of 10,032 cubic feet, including the basement.

For further information about THE NEWTON, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Should a young man, whose means are limited, take his fiancee along with him to pick out her engagement ring? Wouldn't it be embarrassing if she were to pick a ring beyond his means?

A. This is becoming the accepted custom these days, and the man can avoid any embarrassment by first going alone to the jeweler, who can help him pick out a number of rings within his means. He then takes his girl to the store and she makes her selection from these rings.

Q. If a man and a woman are walking together during a rain, and both have umbrellas, should each one use his own umbrella?

A. This would prove very awkward. It would be much better if both were to walk under the man's larger umbrella.

Q. If a woman is eating in a restaurant, would it be all right for her to place her purse and gloves on the corner of the table?

A. No she should place them in her lap.

Q. When a waiter in a hotel dining room brings a dish for me to look at, what am I supposed to say or do?

A. By this act, the waiter is merely asking your approval of the dish. If it is as you ordered, you nod your head yes, and he then serves it. If something is wrong, you tell him quietly either to change it or send it back to the kitchen. Of course, this last is done only for serious cause.

Q. When the double-ring service is to be used at a wedding, who should buy the two rings?

A. The bridegroom, of course, buys the ring for his bride, and the bride should buy the one for the bridegroom.

Q. What should a girl say when being introduced to a young man?

A. "How do you do?" is sufficient.

Q. When bowling ten pins, is it correct to proceed down the runway and deliver your ball while someone on the lane next to you is delivering his ball?

A. This is thoughtless and unsportsman-like conduct. The thing to do is decide between you who will deliver his ball first, and usually the person to the right has the right-of-way.

Q. Should a woman walk on a short distance, or should she wait with her escort while he is paying the taxi fare?

A. She should wait with her escort.

Q. To whom should a bride give preference as maid-of-honor at her wedding?

A. To her sister; otherwise, her most intimate friend.

State precincts for fall election 9,446

Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett announced the total number of precincts in the state for the general election of Nov. 7, 1950 will be 9,446—an increase of 22 precincts over the number shown in the primary election of April 11.

The following counties showed an increase since the primary: Champaign, 1; Cook, 19; Kankakee, 2; Lake, 1 Vermilion, 1. Two counties showed a decrease; Peoria county, City of Peoria, 1; Winnebago county, City of Barrett explained that increases in the number of precincts are brought about by an influx of residents into a county, necessitating the changing of precinct lines; decreases in precincts are brought about by a lessening of residents within a county.

Hemingway writes of a day in the life of a colonel

When Ernest Hemingway writes a novel, everyone wants to read it. His talent and the quality of his past work are reason enough to make all wait hopefully for his latest creation.

At last the heralded book has come—Across the River and into the Trees. It has been a disappointment to many. At times his writing is sparkling and the conversation and description bear the distinguishing Hemingway touch. But there are long stretches of dullness for the reader to plow through. As a whole the novel seems hardly worth the effort.

Colonel Richard Cantwell spends a day in Venice on his way to a duck shoot. During his hours there he has strong premonitions of death and his mind reverts to the past (or has he always talked and thought this way? I wonder.) He reviews his early days in Italy as a lieutenant in the First War, progressing to the rank of General from which he was broken through no fault, says he, of his own.

He spends his time with an Italian Countess, nineteen years old and beautiful, whom he calls Daughter. Besides being his lover, she is a sort of end-man, goading him on to discuss details from his past and his opinions on wars and men. As one reviewer has said, their sex is anatomical, their passion verbal. There is no genuine feeling, no tenderness, no deep and reciprocative giving.

I cannot figure out what he is trying to say about life, war, love and Americans, although he says much, sometimes into the ear of the Countess, sometimes to bartenders and waiters who are his especial friends, sometimes to himself as he lies on his bed in the Hotel Gritti. Maybe he has a right to be like this, with death in pursuit. But it hardly merits the title Hemingway has given it as his finest novel yet.

HOBBIES Yours and Mine

BY BETTY AINSLIE

Remember I said I'd see a few of the hobbyists from the hobby show so stopped in at 506 N. Pine st., to see the friendly Mrs. Charles Purvis and her two sons, Martin and Allan.

If you saw the hobby show you'll remember that unusual and different collection of owls that is her hobby.

ALL THROUGH her lovely home Mrs. Purvis has some of her owl friends—but her main collection is housed in an attractive shadow box on the dining room wall.

Written around the edge of the shadow box is this clever verse:

"A wise old owl sat on an oak,
The more he saw the less he he spoke
The less he spoke the more he heard.
Why aren't we like that wise old bird?"

"I've always liked owls," smiled Mrs. Purvis. "They seem so calm and wise and collecting them has always fascinated me."

Mrs. Purvis has been seriously collecting them for about a year and a half. Allan, who is 9, and Martin, who is 5, two dark eyed collectors, decided they had to have collections too, so have a frog and dog group which were on display at the hobby show too.

Mrs. Purvis has banks, pitchers, whistles, letter openers, andirons, salt and peppers, earrings, planters, pins, ash trays and a daily reminder, all owls.

She has owls made from pottery, shell, wood, paper and milk glass.

"All my friends know I collect owls," laughed the attractive Mrs. Purvis, "and they sure trot their legs off on trips to find another one for my collection."

"WHEN WE GO on a trip," declared Allan, "Mom hunts for owls, and Martin and I hunt for dogs and frogs."

I gather the only one who isn't collection minded in this family is Mr. Purvis. But he's interested in his families' collections and obligingly stops at all sorts of places so Mrs. Purvis and the boys can do some hunting.

Mrs. Purvis has an owl print which is an antique and she was really pleased with some owl Christmas tree ornaments she'd just received from her sister.

One of her friends even had some owl book plates made for her recent birthday present, all of which pleases Mrs. Purvis.

"My first owl was the pine cone one," said Mrs. Purvis showing me that one from her collection.

Someday Mrs. Purvis hopes to turn an old garage in back of their house into a real owl's nest.

Owls or imitation owls placed high up in trees will scare away the Starlings which are pretty destructive birds—so Mrs. Purvis has two owls in the trees around her home.

OWLS AND OWL collecting though is just one of the hobbies this busy woman enjoys. She loves to remodel things and according to her never wants to part with anything so has lots of fun trying to think up uses for her discards.

She's justly proud of a sewing room and play room they made from a pantry and side porch in their house. In fact the Purvis home is charming and it's all come about by Mrs. Purvis visualizing just what she wanted to do with the house when they bought it and then setting about getting it done.

Take it from the Purvis family—collections are heaps of fun. It keeps the whole family working together and by golly it seems to me a family all interested in a collecting hobby sure find an extra measure of fun out of life.

Many women sew flags for United Nations day

Many local women organizations have joined the national United Nations flag-making campaign, reports Claradehl Upham, Home Adviser, Cook County.

Among these groups and organizations are the churches, the schools, and of course all of the Cook County Home Bureau units. These women are sewing flags to present to the officials of the towns, school principals and others who represent the organizations customarily displaying a United States flag.

The extension services of the United States Department of Agriculture and the University of Illinois College of Agriculture are directing the campaign, says Mrs. Upham. Patterns and directions for making the flag are available at the office of the Committee for Boys and Girls Club Work, 59 East Van Buren st., Chicago 5, Ill. Kits containing the emblem, ready to use, and full directions are 50 cents.

The aim is to have the blue and white flag of the United Nations flying all over the United States on October 24—United Nations Day.

The flag, a symbol of world peace and unity, has a deep sky-blue background with a white world design centered on it. Two crossed olive branches — for peace—embrace the world symbol.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Giving advice is a ticklish job.

I have known people who will talk for hours, giving other people the advantage of their great wisdom and experience, but when some one tries to offer them a suggestion, it makes them mad as all get out!

And somehow, I have never had too much confidence in the fellow who won't take advice. It seems better to take what he has to say with a grain of salt. No man is so smart that he knows everything about everything, and whose own opinion is a law unto mankind. The smartest man is the one who is always ready for a word of advice, and always cultivates the acquaintance of people who have had experience in the problems he is seeking to solve, or the information he needs.

There are some people who are always seeking advice about this or that thing. "How do you think this sounds," they ask, reading over a bit of writing they have done. Or, "Do you think this suit fits right?" or again, "What do you think of this idea?"

These people are often looking for praise rather than advice, and it takes tact or a thorough knowledge of an individual to decide on the spur of the moment just which to deal out. If it is praise the person wants, give it to him and forget it, but if it is advice, watch your step!

Sometimes a friend or a relative will come to you and ask advice on some problem, and you can see by his eyes that he doesn't want the advice because he needs it, but in order to shift the responsibility for his actions on to some one else. There are people in this world who can't bear to fail, and when they can say "If I hadn't listened to you, this might never have happened," there is a certain satisfaction which they do not get when they make a decision of their own and fail. It is better sometimes to be completely ignorant and devoid of all ideas about a subject brought up by such people. Be charitable, smile, be polite, but don't stick your neck out.

People giving the best advice are lawyers, doctors, ministers, teachers, own mothers and fathers, trustworthy friends and good wives or husbands. But for important decisions it is better to choose your advisors carefully. And as for giving advice—be sure you know the other fellow's motive in asking. A great many resent advice being given them, even when they ask for it.

Phonevision not to start until November 1

Zenith Radio Corporation has postponed the starting date of its Phonevision test until November 1, and has asked the FCC for permission to continue the test through the month of January, it was announced today by Commander E. F. McDonald, Jr., television man.

McDonald said that the postponement was prompted by two considerations:

"First," he said, "we do not yet have enough good film to conduct the test properly thru its full schedule of 90 days. Refusal by most major motion picture producers to rent us film for this test has deprived us of the type and variety of features we need to make it truly representative, and to make sure that each of the 300 participating families gets a dollar's worth of entertainment from every Phonevision program seen."

McDonald said that the Chicago television transmitter has been installed in its new home on the Field Building and is transmitting an excellent picture; and that Zenith has just been granted a five-fold increase in power by FCC, which will insure excellent reception by every test family. Television-Phonevision receivers have been installed in the homes of the test families selected by the University of Chicago, and the necessary telephone connections have been made.

"In other words," he said, "we are mechanically all set to go. However, it would be unfair, both to our 'public' of 300 families and to the motion picture and television industries, to launch the test with an inadequate supply of quality features, when recent developments make it seem likely that by November 1 we will have available a true cross section of Hollywood's feature productions."

GI's lost property may be reclaimed

Veterans who lose property on which the government has guaranteed part of a loan can secure a second guaranty if conditions reveal that it was lost through no fault of their own, the Illinois Veterans Commission pointed out.

Under the new Housing Act of 1950 restoration of a loan guaranty is possible where property was taken over for public use, destroyed by fire or other natural hazards, or disposed of because of "compelling" reasons.

Under "compelling" reasons the government is giving consideration to veterans who dispose of their property and move because of conditions affecting their health or for those whose change in employment necessitates moving to another location.

The government, however, requires that it be relieved of all liability on the first loan. An added advantage for second loans is the new higher rate of 60% or a ceiling of $7,500. Under a previous law the maximum was $4,000.

Service officers of the IVC have been instructed on the Housing Act and are in a position to assist and advise veterans on phases of the law.

Lessons in English

by W. L. GORDON

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "I was taught that God was omnipresent." Say, "I was taught that God is omnipresent," because He still is.

Do not say, "I could of (or, would of) helped you." Say, "I could have (or, would have) helped you."

Do not say, "He didn't get to go with us." Say, "He was unable to go with us."

Do not say, "I hung one picture over the other," if you mean above the other. Over implies over its surface.

Do not say, "It is not I who is going with you." Say, "It is not I who am going with you."

Do not confuse statue (a sculptured likeness), statute (a law), and stature (the natural height of an animal body).

Words Often Mispronounced

Roosevelt. Pronounce the first syllable as roe, not as roo.

Alien. Pronounce al-yen, a as in ale and two syllables, not al-i-en.

Assume. Pronounce the u as in use, not a-soom.

Tedious. The preferred pronunciation is te-di-us, three syllables.

Luxury. Pronounce the first syllable as luck, not as lug so often heard.

Automobile. Preferred pronunciation is with accent on last syllable.

Words Often Misspelled

Exercise (activity;) ever; exorcise (to expel); exor. Proceed, two e's procedure, ced. Oppressive two p's and two s's. Grander (more grand); grandeur (magnificence). Admit, one t; admittance, two t's. Love and lovely, observe the e lovable, no e after the v.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Credulity; the state of believing on slight evidence. "Sometimes the disadvantage of an honest man is credulity."

Resplendent; shining brilliantly; lutrous. "He was resplendent with medals."

Significant having a meaning; expressive. "The speaker made some statements which were very significant."

Apropos; appropriate. (Pronounce a-pro-po, a as in at, both o's as in no, princial accent on last syllable). "Your remark is apropos of the present situation."

Incoherently in an inconsistent or unconnected manner. (Pronounce first e as in he, accent third syllable). "The man spoke incoherently as he poured out his story."

Incipience; beginning; commencement. (Pronounce all i's as in it, accent second syllable). "The disease was in its incipience."

170,000 daily now

More than four times as many pupils were transported by school buses in Illinois during the 1950 school year than were transported in 1943, according to figures released by Vernon L. Nickell, state superintendent of public instruction. Figures showed an increase from 41,016 transported in 1943 to 169,970 during 1950.

Post hatchery sold to Huegel of Itasca; to open

Edgar R. Post is retiring from the hatchery business, after 35 years of active breeding and hatchery work in Ontarioville and Elgin.

In 1913, Post purchased 46½ acres of land in Ontarioville, Ill., and began to build up the well-known "Sweet Briar Farm." Selling that place in 1943 to the Wulff Manufacturing Co., of Chicago, he then purchased the former John Wiese Leghorn farm on Larkin ave., Elgin, and continued business until this fall.

POST RECALLS when he started at Ontarioville, poultry business was only a side line on farms, the groceries and pin-money for the housewife, or a back lot hobby for city people. There were no year-around broilers then.

After a few years of breeding and experimental work, Post began to show birds at state, national and international shows. And just over a 10-year period, he won 10 first "old pens" in a possible 10 wins, nine "first young pens" on 10 entries, and 60 to 75 per cent of all other competing awards. Also during the 1948-49 show seasons, several customers reported winning several Grand Championship males first, in both state and national exhibitions. Post's Super Anconas have been nationally advertised from 1916 to date.

Also on Sweet Briar Farm, he erected the first three-story artificially lighted and heated poultry house in the United States.

IN 1926, after years of feeding and experimental work, Post wrote and sold "Post's Poultry Methods of Success." He was the first to use pure cod liver oil in poultry rations. He, by this procedure, proved ricketts could be eliminated in chicken growing. Broiler raising is now a major industry in this country.

Right after World War I, Post began to do a local hatchery business. He was one of the first pioneer breeders to develop the "Cross Breeds" or hybrids, as they are known today. He sold these sexed and un-sexed chicks for many years before any other Illinois hatchery. Today, just one large seed-corn firm is spending close to a million in "in-bred" hybrid poultry alone.

NICHOLAS HUEGEL, of Itasca, has purchased all of the incubators, equipment and supplies and is now busy converting buildings into which he will erect machines for the coming season. His place will be known as the Itasca Farm Hatchery, route 1, Itasca. Huegel's purchase includes the Post good will, former customer and mailing lists, cuts, and the right to use the Post's local and national breeding flocks whenever practical to do so. Huegel is manager of Western Electric's cafeteria system.

The Posts have purchased a home at 370 S. Edison ave., Elgin. He and his wife, the former Frances Pottratz, will spend two months in Los Angeles and a month each in Arizona and Texas before making future plans. They have a son, Edgar A., who is with the United Air Lines in Denver, Colo., and a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Lange of Hollywood, Calif.

Take early fertilizer,

Farmers may not have all the fertilizer they will need for peak seasons unless they plan their needs, place their orders and take delivery well in advance of the time they will use it, says the Farmers and Manufacturers Beet Sugar Ass'n.

This was stressed all during the war and post-war years, and still has important application. The reason: Fertilizer use has soared steadily the past 11 years, and never has the anticipated demand appeared so heavy as for 1951. Expectations are that the Government will hold price supports on cotton, corn and some other crops up to a full 90 per cent of parity.

While the fertilizer industry has large supplies on hand now, and are fully equipped to meet everyone's requirements if distribution is steady and orderly, some farmers may be disappointed if the fertilizer industry is not allowed space for additional supplies to be produced and processed.

Plans for inclined column grain drier

If you want to see plans for the Grain Drier that dries 100 bushels grain at a time, such a plan is available at the Farm Bureau office. Working drawings, bill of material, and operating instructions are 15c.

Or if you wish copies direct, send 15c to Room 208, Agricultural Engineering, University of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois.

"With installation of this grain drier," says Farm Adviser Hughes, "Farmers with wet corn can dry out their corn, raise the grade, and profit materially by sending it to market to get the better price for their grain and profit from a good winter's work."

Here's what the soil tests show

The tests for 1949 made in the Cook County Soils Laboratory show some interesting figures.

Projected on a county basis we probably have the following:

Plowable Acres	199,200
Phosphate
Low	59,760
Slight	41,832
Medium and high	97,608
Potash
Low	9,960
Slight	11,950
Medium and high	177,290

About half our land needs phosphate, and about ten per cent potash. Also, about fifty percent needs limestone.

Our big need is still limestone and phosphate, and sometimes potash.

Tests show few farms with the correct amounts. Some farms are over fertilized and a few are twenty per cent under when the operator thought they were about right. Only one out of ten were neither over nor under in any wide degree.

Roselle cattle off to Chicago market

DuPage county cattle were represented at the Chicago Stock Yards.

Erwin Hawk, well known cattle feeder of Roselle, marketed 56 head of Hereford heifers averaging 923 pounds each for $30 per cwt., a good heifer price according to market officials. The day's top cattle price was $33.25 per cwt.

LAW on the FARM

Small estates

When a person dies, his estate (property) must be administered. That is, his debts must be paid, his credits collected, his farm or other business preserved, estate and inheritance taxes paid, and the remaining property distributed to his heirs or to those persons designated by will. All these procedures—referred to as "administration of the estate"—are controlled by state law. Required forms must be executed and filed, appraisals made, accountings and inventories prepared, heirship (legal relationship to the deceased) proved, and a number of other steps taken.

Much of this work is exacting. For that reason attorneys are customarily employed to assist the administrator or executor in the discharge of his obligations. Although the costs of administration vary with the size and complexity of the estate, fees and costs frequently appear excessive for small estates. To reduce these necessary costs of small properties the Illinois Legislature in 1927 passed an act simplifying the procedure when "small estates" are involved.

A "small estate" is one in which the personal estate of the decedent does not exceed one thousand dollars. If regular administration procedures have not been started, if funeral expenses have been paid, and if 30 days have elapsed since the death of the decedent, settlement may be made through an affidavit made out by one or more of the persons entitled to receive the estate. If there is a surviving spouse, or a child entitled to a surviving spouse or child's award, the estate (including payments from debtors of the estate) is paid over to the spouse or child. Otherwise, it is paid to the heirs or to those entitled by will—if a will is probated and nine months have elapsed.

A small estate cannot be paid over to heirs or legatees unless there are no creditors. Any person or corporation refusing to pay over funds after the affidavit is delivered to them may be sued by the affiant (one who made out the affidavit). Persons who make false affidavits to obtain the personal estate of another are subject to conviction for the crime of perjury. Any relative of a deceased person desiring to use the small estate procedure should obtain competent assistance in preparing the affidavit.
